The 2005 New York Jets Media Guide has been produced for all members of the media for their assistance in their coverage of the Jets during the 2005 NFL season and postseason. While it is impossible to include every statistical and editorial event in the Club's 45-year history, every attempt will be made by a member of the Club's public and media relations staff to accommodate requests for further information and assistance pertaining to historically relevant topics should you need the assistance.

Community relations requests, including player and coaching appearances, should be directed to Jesse Linder or Charles Wande at 516.560.8100.

NEW YORK JETS IN THE COMMUNITY

The New York Jets take great pride in playing an active role and making a year-round commitment to the New York Tri-State community. The Jets' players, coaches, alumni and front office staff, along with their corporate and community partners, are dedicated to supporting civic and community charities including hunger initiatives, encouraging education and fitness and reaching out to disadvantaged youth and families to make a lasting impact.

In 2004 the Jets dedicated themselves to more than 300 community appearances and supported almost 3,000 organizations with monetary, merchandise and memorabilia donations. The following is a recap of various New York Jets' community initiatives in 2004.

NEW YORK JETS' COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIPS

www.lupusresearch.org

The New York Jets organization is deeply committed to supporting the Alliance for Lupus Research (ALR), an independent non-profit organization dedicated to raising the profile of lupus and the scope of lupus research. The ALR was founded in 1999 and is chaired by Owner and CEO Woody Johnson. The ALR has one mission – to prevent, treat and cure lupus through research.

Alliance for Lupus Research

The Jets take an active role in fundraising for the ALR. Events such as the annual Walk with Us to Cure Lupus program (a series of 5K fundraising walks) and New York Jets Kickoff Luncheon are but a few of the ways the Jets are helping the ALR to raise much needed funds which support researchers investigating new approaches in fighting lupus.

WR Justin McCareins and his wife, Sherrone, lead a group at the ALR's second annual Long Island Walk with Us to Cure Lupus 5K Walkathon.

On Saturday, May 14, 2005, Jets players, coaches and fans joined with Mr. Johnson, and those whose lives have been touched by lupus, to walk in the ALR's Second Annual Long Island Walk with Us to Cure Lupus 5K walk held in Eisenhower Park. New York Jets Owner Woody Johnson and Head Coach Herman Edwards led the fundraising and awareness walk. Coach Edwards and his wife Lia served as the honorary co-chairs for the walk and helped more than 1,000 participants raise well over $200,000.

The Jets also were out in full force to support the third annual New Jersey Walk with Us to Cure Lupus walk at the Meadowlands Sports Complex on June 18, 2005 and the second annual New York City Walk with Us to Cure Lupus walk on October 22, 2005 at the South Street Seaport.

Lupus, an autoimmune disease in which the body's immune system turns against itself and harms healthy cells and tissue, is characterized by chronic inflammation and can cause life-threatening involvement of major organs such as the kidneys, lungs, heart and nervous system. According to the National Institutes of Health, nine out of 10 people with lupus are women. It often appears during the childbearing years of 15 to 45, is three times more common in African-American women than in Caucasian women and is also more common in women of Hispanic, Asian and Native American decent.

Since its inception, the ALR has committed more than $27 million to lupus research. Their approach is distinctive - to take advantage of the growing opportunities in the field of lupus and bring about significant new advances faster than ever before - all to help the many individuals and families living with lupus. Together... we can find a cure.

UNITED WAY

United Way
United Way of New York City

The 2005-06 NFL Season marks the 32nd year of collaboration between the National Football League and the United Way. Together, the NFL and the United Way have changed the landscape of corporate/non-profit community partnerships. It is a relationship that has been strengthened by the volunteer efforts of NFL players and teams nationwide. Quarterback Chad Pennington serves as the Club's United Way Spokesperson.

On April 6, 2005, the United Way of New York City recognized Jets' safety Jon McGraw as the Club's 2005 Hometown Hero. McGraw accepted the award at the Gridiron Gala – a United Way/NFL Partnership Awards Dinner – at New York City's Waldorf=Astoria. McGraw is also a spokesperson for the Generation Jets Kids' Club where he interacts with members of the club at different events. McGraw appreciated the Hometown Hero Award, but feels his support of the program is just reciprocation.

It is estimated that $20,000 of the proceeds from the dinner will benefit the Generation Jets Academy and will be given in honor of McGraw. The Hometown Hero award was created to recognize the outstanding generosity of volunteers within the NFL and to encourage volunteerism.

In 2004, the New York Jets "Tix For Kids" program provided more than 1,200 tickets that were distributed to mentoring agencies. The "Tix For Kids" program is a vehicle for season ticket holders to release unused game tickets to the United Way of New York City, which are then made available to underprivileged children through their mentoring agencies. Accompanied by a mentor, the child is granted an opportunity to attend a New York Jets' football game. The United Way of New York City network of mentoring agencies include Mentoring USA, The Mentoring Partnership of New York, The Children's Aid Society, Boys and Girls Clubs, Big Brothers Big Sisters and more.

The New York Jets also participate in Hometown Huddle, a League-wide initiative with the United Way. In 2004, quarterback Brooks Bollinger, linebacker Victor Hobson, guard Dave Yovanovits and long snapper James Dearth helped build a new multi-purpose activity floor, donated by the Jets and Giants through a grant from NFL Charities, at the Highbridge Recreation Center in Washington Heights, NY. Hometown Huddle is a program in which all 32 NFL teams simultaneously work in the community through its United Way partnerships.

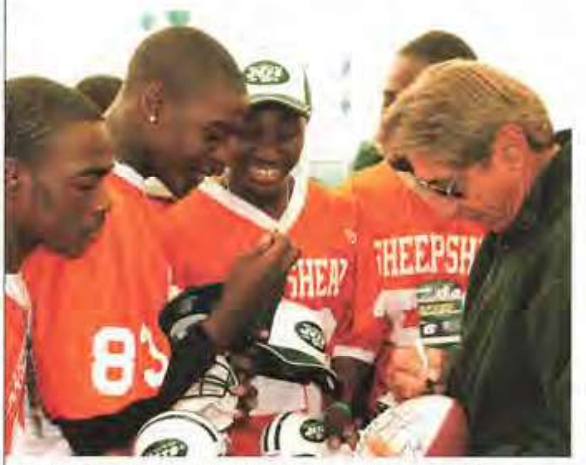
PUBLIC SCHOOL ATHLETIC LEAGUE

In 2001 the New York Jets formed a community partnership with the Public School Athletic League (PSAL) to provide support to New York City public school's football programs. Throughout the 2004 season and going into 2005, the Jets and the PSAL have teamed up in numerous ways.

Beginning with the 2005 high school football season, the Jets have committed $100,000 to the PSAL as part of the Heads Up! program. Heads Up! will help recondition every helmet in the PSAL and provide individual school grants to new or developmental high school football programs. DE Shaun Ellis will be the program's spokesperson and will make visits to various PSAL schools.



Hall of Fame Jets' QB Joe Namath signs autographs for the 2004 PSAL Champion Sheepshead Bay Sharks.

Starting this year, the Jets will hold a Captain's Day during training camp where all the captains from PSAL teams will visit a training camp practice.

Throughout the 2004 season, high school football coaches from the PSAL attended Jets' practices weekly. This provided coaches the opportunity to view a professional practice and pick up valuable techniques and tips from the Jets' coaching staff.

The Jets recognized the 75 players and coaches of the Sheepshead Bay Sharks with an on-field presentation at the Jets' December 5, 2004 game vs. the Houston Texans as the Public School Athletic League football champions.

SCHOOLFOOD

The New York Jets' and New York City Public Schools' Chancellor Joel I. Klein have joined together to announce a new outreach campaign under the School Food program. The purpose of "Feed Your Mind" is to encourage parents to submit school meal applications and help increase the amount of students who take advantage of free and reduced-price meals in New York City's public schools. The outreach campaign produced a PSA encouraging students to "Feed Your Mind" by eating healthy and staying fit with a sweepstakes for parents and students who submit the school meal forms. The campaign also aims to educate parents and children about the nutritional reforms taking place in public school cafeterias, where a variety of healthy meals now are included on the menu.

Parents who submitted SchoolFood application 1041 by October 22, 2004 were automatically eligible for a variety of prizes, including a free trip for two to Hawaii donated by The New York Jets. Other sweepstakes prizes included bicycles from Raleigh USA, passes to Chelsea Piers, free movie passes from Loews Cineplex Entertainment, gift certificates to Barnes & Noble, tickets to New York Mets' baseball games, books from the Argosy Book Store, Chupa Chup perfume and Adidas cologne from Coty, Inc, and an autographed football from the Jets.

NYC Public Schools Chancellor Joel I. Klein and Head Coach Herm Edwards announce the winner of the "Feed Your Mind" program.

As a result of the "Feed Your Mind" program more than one million entries were received, and on February 9, 2005 Chancellor Joel I. Klein joined Jets' Head Coach Herm Edwards to announce the winner of New York City's public schools' SchoolFood outreach program and sweepstakes. The announcement took place at a press conference at Alfred E. Smith Vocational High School in the Bronx, NY.

NEWSPAPERS IN EDUCATION (NIE)

JETS NUTRITION

In 2005, the New York Jets will begin a new program with the New York Daily News called "Jets Nutrition." The focus of Jets Nutrition is to combat the rising obesity level (according to the CDC from 1999-2002 obesity among children and adolescents has risen to 16%) among United States youth by bringing awareness to the importance of nutrition, health and fitness. Jets Nutrition will be in the Daily News every Tuesday during the season and present a lesson plan meeting the national educational standards for nutrition, health and fitness. Also included will be an information box from the New York Department of Education's Chef Jorge Collazo discussing upcoming SchoolFood programs. The Jets will provide a weekly feature highlighting a player's school visit or training staff member's advice on nutrition, health and fitness.

Jets Nutrition is a variation of the Jets Geography program which enjoyed its last season in 2004. In its 12 seasons, Jets Geography has helped educate more than 130,000 New York City, Long Island and Northern New Jersey students by providing teachers with lesson plans in a full-page feature every Tuesday during the season. The program was supported by a player visit once a month throughout the season. In its final season cornerback Roderick Bryant visited Jane Addams High School in the Bronx, wide receiver Carl Kearney visited Allen Christian School in Queens, running back Keith Burnell visited A. Phillip Randolph High School in Harlem, tackles Adrian Jones and Marko Cavka visited Curtis High School in Staten Island, and fullback B. J. Askew visited Canarsie High School in Brooklyn as a part of the program.

FOOTBALL FANFARE/KID REPORTER OF THE WEEK PROGRAM

The 2004 season marked the eighth year for the Football Fanfare/Kid Reporter of the Week Program with The Star-Ledger (NJ). The program features a one-quarter page in the paper every Wednesday during the season with football-related assignments for students in grades 4-12 to complete. Each home game, two students are selected from within 12 New Jersey counties to attend the game as a member of the press. Both students are granted an exclusive player interview that is published in the following Tuesday edition of The Star-Ledger.

Student reporter interviews S Reggie Tongue after the Dec. 5, 2004 game vs. HOU.

More than 25,000 students participate in the program each year. As a wrap-up, students from several New Jersey schools are invited to an event held in the Meadowlands press box where Jets' players answer their questions, sign autographs and speak about the importance of education.

NEW YORK JETS' COMMUNITY PROGRAMS

GENERATION JETS ACADEMY

Generation Jets Academy has served as the linchpin of the New York Jets' community relations program since its inception in 2002. An education initiative, the primary goal of Generation Jets Academy is to provide elementary school students with enjoyable learning experiences that enhance their literacy, math skills, creativity, community awareness and self-esteem. The after-school program provides students with personalized attention from caring and creative teachers, as well as a 50% increase in learning time each day.

Generation Jets Academy is a collaborative education initiative with the Brooklyn Bureau of Community Service and Gary Klinsky Children Centers. "We are blessed by being able to go into an existing program without having to start from scratch," said Club President Jay Cross. "It's a perfect complement to the Jets' overall community platform, which by definition is very youth-oriented and focuses on academics and athletics."

Generation Jets I cheerleaders perform at the Generation Jets II check presentation.

On October 1, 2002 Jets' Chairman and CEO Woody Johnson along with Club President Jay Cross presented Donna Santarsiero, Executive Director of the Brooklyn Bureau of Community Service with a $50,000 check to kick off the Generation Jets Academy I site located at the Ethan Allen School in East New York, Brooklyn.

On December 9, 2003, Johnson, Cross and Santarsiero were all on hand to receive a $50,000 donation from the New York Mercantile Exchange (NYMEX) Charitable Foundation for the Club's Generation Jets Academy II site located at East Village Community School in New York City. The check was presented during a program by Madeline Boyd, Chairman of the New York Mercantile Exchange Foundation Committee, to kick off a three-year $150,000 commitment by NYMEX to support Generation Jets Academy II. Generation Jets Academy I cheerleaders performed at the event.

JETS WOMEN'S ORGANIZATION (JWO)

The Jets Women's Organization is an organization comprised of the wives, fiancées and significant others of New York Jets players, coaches and select football support staff members. The Jets' Community Relations Department oversees this organization with the assistance of the Head Coach's wife, Lia Edwards, and it is supported by Davis Vision. Founded in 2001, the mission of the organization is to build goodwill in the Tri-State community through active volunteer participation.

The JWO serving Thanksgiving dinner at the INN on Nov. 18, 2004.

In 2004, the Jets Women's Organization, in conjunction with the New York Jets and St. Mary's Children and Families Foundation, presented An Evening of Stars Fashion Show & Dinner at the Marriott Long Island located in Uniondale, NY on October 7. Danielle Monaro of New York's No. 1-rated radio morning show, Elvis Duran & the Z Morning Zoo Crew on Z100, hosted the program. All proceeds from the event benefited mercyFirst.

Members of the JWO, along with tight end Anthony Becht, kicker Doug Brien, safety Erik Coleman, wide receivers Justin McCareins and Jerricho Cotchery, center Kevin Mawae, quarterback Chad Pennington, linebacker Jonathan Vilma, fullbacks B.J. Askew and Jerald Sowell and safety Jon McGraw, modeled the latest fashions on the runway. The event raised more than $20,000 for mercyFirst.

"The Fashion Show is in its fifth year, but this marked the third straight year the JWO has been involved," said Lia Edwards. "It was a perfect way for our players and their wives and the rest of their families to get involved with something important, using us as celebrity models. mercyFirst is a great charity. We have probably doubled the amount of people attending this event since we came aboard."

"We became involved because it is a great event and I don't think very many people know about the Jets Women's Organization," said Danielle Monaro from Z100's Elvis Duran & the Z Morning Zoo Crew. "I think that more people should know about the JWO because they do so much in the community. It is such a great cause. There are not many teams around here that have an organization for the wives to get involved in the community, doing things for kids, doing things for charity."

Again in 2004 the JWO was an instrumental part of the Jets' Community Relations initiatives. Their contributions included hosting Breast Cancer Awareness Day at the Meadowlands, hosting children from the Hempstead Boys and Girls Club during training camp, volunteering to serve meals at the Interfaith Nutrition Network soup kitchen in Hempstead, NY and participating in the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society's Light the Night Walk.

JETS' COMMUNITY QUARTERBACK

In 2004, The New York Jets announced that Michael Wong of College Point, NY won the Jets' 2004 Community Quarterback Award, which recognizes volunteers who have provided outstanding contributions to their respective communities.

A grant of $10,000 was donated in Wong's name to New York Cares, the organization for which he volunteers. In addition, Wong was recognized on field at the Jets' home game against the Baltimore Ravens.

Michael Wong began volunteering with New York Cares, New York City's largest hands-on volunteer organization, in January of 2003 and has since participated in 550 volunteer projects, accumulating more than 1,400 service hours. His primary focus has been meal service where Wong has contributed 600 hours of his time. Only six months after he joined New York Cares, Wong was nominated to become a team leader. After completing the training in August 2003, Wong has spent the past year leading volunteers through meal service projects where teams serve hot meals to more than 700 homeless men and women at a veteran soup kitchen in New York City. Other projects he has assisted with include a New York Cares' back to school book drive where he was among a handful of dedicated volunteers who kept working during the blackout of 2003, and leading teams of volunteers during the September 11th Commemoration Events in 2003 and 2004.

The Jets' Community Quarterback Award is part of a League-wide program. Funded by NFL Charities, the NFL Community Quarterback Award program recognizes volunteers in the 32 NFL markets (plus one at-large winner) and awards nearly $1 million to the charitable organizations that these volunteers serve. This program honors individuals who exemplify leadership, dedication and a commitment to improving the communities in which they live through volunteerism.

NFL Charities, created in 1973, is a non-profit organization that allows NFL clubs' and players to collectively make grants to charitable and worthwhile causes on the national level. Since its inception, NFL Charities has donated more than $45 million in grant commitments to more than 250 different organizations.

NFL Charities will donate a $1,000 check to each of the 10 finalists' organizations.
The 10 finalists and the charity for which they volunteer are listed below:

• Paul Brady	Hale House
• Craig Coryell	United Way of Long Island
• Ed Dolan	Big Brothers Big Sisters of Long Island

A League-wide initiative, the High School Coach of the Week Program aids in the development of youth football. It gives high school coaches the recognition they deserve and provides high schools financial assistance in maintaining and upgrading their football programs.

2004 marked the ninth season that the Jets have participated in the High School Coach of the Week Program. Locally, the Jets' award is given weekly during the season to a coach in the Tri-State area who serves the best interests of the game through the teaching of sound football fundamentals, the motivation of young players to achieve, and the promotion of youth football by way of dedication to his community, his school and his student-athletes. The New York Jets' Community Relations department selects the winner. Each winner is recognized on MSG's High School Sports Weekly on Wednesday nights and receives $1,000 for his high school's football program from NFL Charities. At the end of the high school football season, a Coach of the Year is selected and is awarded $2,000 for his high school's football program.

NEW YORK JETS YOUTH FOOTBALL PROGRAMS

FANTASY YOUTH FOOTBALL

The New York Jets' Fantasy Youth Football program allows local youth football teams the opportunity to walk through the halls of Weeb Ewbank Hall, the Club's Long Island training complex. Teams given this opportunity get a first-hand view of the players' locker room, meeting rooms, training room, weight room and press room. The tour is concluded with a photo opportunity for the children and an up close look at the Super Bowl III trophy.

GJYF! Generation Jets Youth Football

YOUTH FOOTBALL TRAINING CAMP

In 2004, the New York Jets hosted more than 900 players and coaches from youth football teams as VIP's at Training Camp and Generation Jets Fest (the Club's interactive football theme park). Generation Jets Fest VIP's are given reserved seating in the bleachers to view practice, gift bags, and an on-site Jets' representative to act as a liaison during their visit. Training Camp VIP's receive passes to view practice from the sideline, a Jets' gift bag and an on-site Jets' representative to act as a liaison during their visit.

YOUTH FOOTBALL PRE-GAME/HALFTIME SHOW

On game days in 2004, the New York Jets hosted eight youth football teams that participated in the annual pre-game and halftime Shows. Each pre-game show includes bus transportation to and from the Meadowlands and eight minutes of game play followed by the team forming a player tunnel for Jets' player introductions, boxed lunches and a complimentary VHS tape and CD of pictures from their performance. If the team is there as a part of the halftime show, they also have the opportunity to use the VIP bubble to watch the game. In 2005, the Jets hope to extend the Game Day Experience to other teams throughout the tri-state area.

YOUTH FOOTBALL DONATIONS

The New York Jets continued to support youth football programs throughout the tri-state area in 2004. They distributed autographs, new and used equipment, apparel and promotional items to more than 90 football programs.

JETS' NFL FLAG FOOTBALL

The NFL's official youth flag football league for boys and girls between the ages of six and 14 years old was established in 1996. It is a nationwide program and is represented in all 32 NFL markets. The League provides the opportunity for children and families to become involved in the sport of football at an early age. It also helps in the development of the first phase of a young player and coach as it teaches skills and structured play. The New York Jets are proud to assist the League in its effort to help local youth learn more about football.

JETS' JUNIOR PLAYER DEVELOPMENT (J.P.D.)

The National Football League has developed an introductory/developmental youth tackle football program for boys ages 12-14. The program is taught by NFL-selected high school coaches from the community and is designed to teach each participant every position on the field. It is done through a step-by-step instruction of skills in a fun and entertaining manner. A life skills/character development curriculum is incorporated through all on-field activities to provide counseling for all participants.

JETS' HIGH SCHOOL PLAYER DEVELOPMENT (H.S.P.D.)

The High School Player Development program was established to provide academic counseling and specific football skill training by position to high school sophomores, juniors and seniors. Each participant gains full awareness of what is necessary to become a successful student athlete at the collegiate level, along with the resources and information to meet NCAA Clearinghouse requirements.

PEPSI PUNT, PASS AND KICK

This national competition was established in 1961 for boys and girls ages eight-15. The free skills competition tests punting, passing and placekicking ranges. The four-week program (August – September) is currently run in more than 6,000 local schools nationwide, as well as over 3,000 local park and recreation centers. The New York Jets continue to annually support the competition by hosting the finals each year during a Jets' home game at the Meadowlands.

NEW YORK JETS' COMMUNITY EVENTS

JETS' KICKOFF LUNCHEON

The New York Jets' Chairman and CEO Robert Wood Johnson IV, President Jay Cross, Executive Vice President/General Manager Terry Bradway, Head Coach Herman Edwards and the entire New York Jets 2004 team gathered at the Waldorf=Astoria Hotel on August 5 for the fourth annual New York Jets' Kickoff Luncheon.

The proceeds from the luncheon, in excess of $300,000, benefited Generation Jets Academy, the team's educational initiative that consists of after-school learning centers for New York City's most at-risk students. The academy offers students after-school instruction from dedicated and innovative teachers in positive learning atmospheres. The program helps the students to improve academic performance, in conjunction with increased creativity and self-esteem. Students of Generation Jets Academy receive personalized attention from caring and creative teachers, along with a 50 percent increase in learning times each day. Currently, Generation Jets Academy operates in two locations. Generation Jets Academy I is located at the Ethan Allen School in East New York, Brooklyn and Generation Jets Academy II operates out of the East Village Community School in Manhattan.

"The New York Jets are committed to providing the children of New York with great educational experiences," said Johnson. "The Jets love children and love to give back to the community. We hope that we can make an invaluable contribution to these children."

The luncheon also gave the Jets an opportunity to honor New York City Schools Chancellor Joel Klein. A native New Yorker from Queens, Klein has spearheaded wide-ranging reforms in the city education system which have yielded higher student tests scores and re-energized urban education systems throughout the country.

"If fixing our schools was seen in construction terms, one might say that our first-year accomplishments included clearing the land, developing a design based on the best new standards, digging and setting the foundation and completing the lower floors," says Klein. "And while progress will require much more hard work and painful change throughout the system, the early work still points upward and toward a better future for our children."

ESPN's Chris Berman served as master of ceremonies for the event, which also included speeches from Johnson, Klein, Head Coach Herm Edwards and team president Jay Cross, and a silent auction of sports memorabilia and other entertainment-related items.

HERM EDWARDS GOLF CLASSIC

The New York Jets hosted the Second Annual Herm Edwards Golf Classic on June 6 at the Piping Rock Country Club in Locust Valley, NY. More than 25 members of the New York Jets, including five-time Pro Bowl center Kevin Mawae and wide receivers Wayne Chrebet and Justin McCareins were in attendance with Head Coach Herman Edwards and Owner Woody Johnson for the event. All proceeds from the event benefited the New York Jets Foundation, Inc.

New York City's finest chefs volunteered their time, culinary expertise and food as they teamed up with current Jets' players such as six-time Pro Bowl center Kevin Mawae, 2004 AP NFL Rookie of the Year Jonathan Vilma, Justin McCareins, Erik Coleman and 18 of their teammates. In addition, Head Coach Herm Edwards, his wife Lia, and quarterback Chad Pennington stopped by to check out the event. The star-studded evening presented by ShopRite, Kraft, Nabisco, Acosta and Clorox was enjoyed by more than 600 guests who had the opportunity to mingle and get autographs from all the players in attendance. Actor Paul Rudd and Dominic Chianese were also in attendance at the event.

Funds raised through event ticket sales and the silent auction are distributed to local food banks as well as hunger-relief agencies in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Delaware and Pennsylvania.

NEW YORK JETS BLOOD DRIVE

The New York Jets, in partnership with Long Island Blood Services (LIBS), hosted a Blood Drive on August 11, 2004 that collected 68 pints of blood.

The blood drive took place during the Club's training camp. Those who donated on August 11 were entered into a raffle to receive a pair of tickets to the Jets' preseason game versus the Eagles. A total of 50 pairs of tickets were raffled off.

BREAST CANCER AWARENESS DAY

The Jets and the Jets Women's Organization (JWO) hosted Breast Cancer Awareness Day on October 10, 2004 at their home game vs. the Buffalo Bills.

Since 2001, the New York Jets have hosted a pink ribbon distribution at a home game during October, Breast Cancer Awareness Month, to create public awareness and educate people about the issue of breast cancer and the early detection steps to take for disease prevention. Members of the JWO also film a PSA about Breast Cancer that airs at the stadium.

Between the third and fourth quarters of the game against the Bills, the Jets made a donation of $10,000 to breast cancer research. Prior to kickoff, JWO members and volunteers distributed 30,000 pink ribbons affixed to information cards at the stadium gates. In addition, volunteers collected another $10,000 from fans entering the stadium.

JETS' GAMEDAY DRIVES

FOOD DRIVE

New York Jets' fans donated more than two tons of non-perishable foods for the Jets' Annual Food Drive to benefit the Interfaith Nutrition Network (INN) on November 14, 2004 at the Meadowlands.

COAT DRIVE

The New York Jets hosted their annual coat drive to benefit the New York Cares coat drive on December 19, 2004 for the Club's home game vs. the Seattle Seahawks and collected more than 2,000 coats. The 2,000-plus coats were part of the more than 70,000 winter coats distributed by New York Cares, making the 2004 winter a warmer, safer season.

New York Cares has created opportunities for tens of thousands of busy New Yorkers to give their time each year by offering flexibly-scheduled volunteer projects.

TOY DRIVE

The New York Jets partnered with the U.S. Marines to host the annual Toys for Tots drive on December 5, 2004 at the Meadowlands for their game vs. the Houston Texans. Jets' fans donated more 10,000 toys and approximately $9,000.

The objective of Toys for Tots is to help needy children throughout the United States experience the joy of Christmas, to play an active role in the development of our nation's most valuable natural resource – our children and to unite all members of local communities in a common cause for three months each year during the annual toy collection and distribution campaign.

HOLIDAY EVENTS

THANKSGIVING TURKEY DISTRIBUTION

In an effort to brighten the spirits and fill the stomachs of many hungry New York residents, six members of the New York Jets joined up with the Food Bank for New York City and the office of the Brooklyn Borough President to distribute turkeys and non-perishable food items at the Temple El Devino Salvador in Brooklyn for Thanksgiving.

Cornerback Terrell Buckley, quarterback Ricky Ray, defensive tackle Alan Harper, safety Oliver Celestin, punter Toby Gowin and linebacker Darrell McClover were cheered on by Bushwick residents as they helped unload and pass out food to those in need. The players also spent an extensive amount of time mingling with those present and signing autographs.

Recent research conducted by the Food Bank for New York shows that despite the obvious need for assistance by at-risk New Yorkers, only 38 percent of city residents are aware of programs that provide free food in their own community.

"The biggest thing for us is that the Jets bring visibility to the issue of hunger, and right now, particularly at this time of year, we want people to understand that hunger is a huge problem in New York City," said Aine Duggan, who serves as the Vice President for Government Relation Policy and Research and heads up the Food Bank for New York City. "It's with the help of the Jets and the Brooklyn Borough President's office that we've managed to do that today."

HOLIDAY SHOPPING

Fifty students from the Brooklyn-based Generation Jets Academy I were treated to a special afternoon Tuesday, December 14, 2004 thanks to the contributions of several Jets' players. As part of an attendance-based incentive program, 50 children were selected to attend a shopping spree at a Brooklyn Toys 'R' Us. Jets' players contributed to purchase a $100 gift card for each participant, and willbacker end Trevor Johnson, guard Brandon Moore, safety Derek Pagel, safety Rashad Washington, and linebacker Mark Brown escorted the kids through the store.

While the kids were given the freedom to spend their gift card in any manner that they wished, many of them chose to purchase gifts for others.

"A lot of children purchased gifts for their siblings and even their parents," assistant director Rue Mann said. "It was heartwarming to see them really understand what the season is about."

In addition to receiving the gift cards, the children overflowed with enthusiasm at simply getting to spend time with the group of professional athletes. The players involved answered questions about playing in the NFL and spent time interacting with the kids. The event was equally rewarding for the athletes.

"We can't thank the Jets enough for what they do to help these kids," Mann said. "They really give them hope. Each event is special to them, and we're so fortunate to have them with us. They may never know how much it means to the children."

LB Mark Brown gives his group last minute shopping advice before leading them through Toys "R" Us.

PLANET HOLLYWOOD HOLIDAY PARTY

The children of Generation Jets Academy II were treated to a special afternoon on Tuesday, December 7, 2004 as Kareem McKenzie, Jonathan Goodwin, and Dave Yovanovits met the kids for a holiday party at Planet Hollywood Times Square.

Planet Hollywood Times Square donated the space and food for the event which approximately 80 students and parents attended. McKenzie, Goodwin, and Yovanovits spent the afternoon playing with the kids, signing autographs and posing for pictures. Those in attendance were impressed with how the athletes invested in the kids.

"During the holiday season, we like to do a little extra," said Planet Hollywood Public Relations Manager Ayana Brown. "I knew the Jets players do a lot of outreach, so I contacted them to see if there was anything we could do, and this event was the perfect fit. We're kid friendly, so it worked out really well."

As evident by their constant smiles and generous greetings throughout the event, the children and parents equally enjoyed the time they got to spend with the players. Their responses proved rewarding for the players.

"We're in such a privileged position to be in the NFL," Yovanovits said. "A lot of fans and kids look at us in awe. It means so much for them to get to interact with us, so when I get this opportunity, I have to take advantage of it. I love being able to give people that excitement."

TERRY BRADWAY

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT AND GENERAL MANAGER

FIFTH SEASON WITH JETS
20TH SEASON IN NFL

Terry Bradway will enter his fifth season with the New York Jets as the Club's General Manager and second season as Executive Vice President. Under Bradway's leadership, he and Head Coach Herm Edwards, have instilled a winning attitude throughout the organization. Bradway's key player personnel moves through free agency, player trades and the NFL Draft, have positioned the Jets as one of only seven NFL teams to earn a playoff berth in three-of-the-last four seasons. During Bradway's tenure, the Jets won their second division title in Club history in 2002.

Bradway emphasizes the importance of building the team through the draft. He has implemented a system where young and veteran players are given every opportunity to contribute, and with the coaching staff developing the players, putting them in a position to be successful.

Bradway's mantra maintains the Jets are always looking to improve and will look at all options to upgrade at any position. He followed suit this past offseason, by re-acquiring WR Laveranues Coles from Washington in a deal that sent former No. 1 Jets' draft choice Santana Moss to the Redskins. Moss was the first player ever drafted by Bradway in 2001.

Bradway countered the loss of several players to free agency in 2005, by aggressively restocking the roster with the signings of RB Derrick Blaylock, LB Barry Gardner, QB Jay Fiedler, DL Lance Legree, and T Ethan Brooks to name a few. Prior to the draft, and to fill a need at tight end, he traded two draft picks to Oakland (first and seventh round) for Doug Jolley.

The Jets added eight players to the roster through the 2005 draft. Bradway tabbed K Mike Nugent from Ohio State with the Club's first pick (second round) in the '05 draft. The selection marked the highest a kicker was drafted since Oakland selected K Sebastian Janikowski in the first round (no. 17 overall) in the 2000 draft. He bolstered the secondary and special teams with the addition of DB Justin Miller from Clemson. Bradway has selected 36 players in five drafts, of which 29 are still Jets and 35 are in the NFL.

Prior to the 2004 draft, Bradway identified a need at WR and traded a second round pick to Tennessee for WR Justin McCareins, who led the Jets in '04 with 56 receptions for 770 yards and four TD. The '04 draft class stepped up to be an integral part of the resurgent defensive unit, which ranked seventh overall in defense, a jump from a ranking of 23rd a year ago. LB Jonathan Vilma, the Jets' first selection in '04, earned AP NFL Defensive Rookie of the Year honors, the third Jet ever to earn the honor and first since 1995. Vilma was joined by fellow draftees S Erik Coleman, who garnered Defensive Rookie of the Week honors, and CB Derrick Strait, who contributed before an injury sidelined him.

Bradway shuffled his roster following the 2004 season and used free agency to add three starters including LB Eric Barton, CB David Barrett and LG Pete Kendall.

Players that have made significant contributions from the 2003 and '02 NFL Drafts include; DT Dewayne Robertson, LB Victor Hobson, S Jon McGraw, and DE Bryan Thomas. All who at one time have been starters.

In Bradway's first draft as GM, the Jets traded up three selections to select WR Santana Moss from the University of Miami. Moss finished with 74 catches for 1,105 yards and 10 TD in his third season, on his way to being voted the team's 2003 MVP. Other top picks from Bradway's first year included RB LaMont Jordan, T Kareem McKenzie and DT James Reed.

Bradway was hired on January 11, 2001 by Jets' Chairman and CEO Woody Johnson after having worked for the Kansas City Chiefs for the previous nine seasons in the team's player personnel department. Bradway's first order of business was hiring Herm Edwards as Head Coach of the Jets. Bradway has earned a reputation as one of the top talent evaluators in the NFL after having served as KC's vice president of player personnel (2000), director of player personnel (1997-99) and director of college scouting (1992-96). He played a major role in KC's success from the time of his arrival in 1992, in particular assisting Carl Peterson, the Chiefs' President and GM, with the drafting of highly productive talent, including DB Greg Wesley, T John Tait, G Victory Riley, CB Eric Warfield, S Reggie Tongue and seven Pro Bowlers: TE Tony Gonzalez, G Will Shields, LB Donnie Edwards, WR Joe Horn, WR/KR Dante Hall, DE Gary Stills and S Jerome Woods.

Bradway also gained valuable experience evaluating professional talent and helped the Chiefs with input regarding trades and FA acquisitions. He was part of a personnel department which acquired key talent such as RB Marcus Allen, QB Rich Gannon and Elvis Grbac, CB James Hasty, WR Derrick Alexander, LB Marvcus Patton, WR Andre Rison and DE Duane Clemons. He also worked to locate rookie FA talent such as DE Eric Hicks, LB Mike Maslowski and G Brian Waters, all starters.

He joined the Chiefs after spending seven years (1986-92) as a scout with the New York Giants, where he served as a valued member of the Giants' personnel department for General Manager George Young and Head Coach Bill Parcells (through the 1990 season). He was part of a personnel department that helped the Giants to Super Bowl XXI and XXV championships.

Before joining the Giants, Bradway spent three seasons (1983-85) as assistant director of player personnel for the USFL's Philadelphia/Baltimore Stars. He was part of a personnel staff that included Jim Mora as head coach, Vince Tobin as defensive coordinator and Dom Capers as DB coach. Together they helped guide the Club to a league-best 48-13-1 overall record, three championship game appearances and two USFL titles.

Bradway started his football career by serving as WR coach at the University of Cincinnati in 1978 and as RB coach at the United States Merchant Marine Academy in 1979. Bradway earned his Master's degree in Health and Physical Education from Glassboro State (now Rowan University) in 1982. He was a former collegiate DB at Trenton (NJ) State (now the College of New Jersey), and he earned three letters before graduating from Rowan University with a Bachelor's degree in Health/Physical Education in 1978. He graduated from Holy Spirit HS in Absecon, NJ (a suburb of Atlantic City), and was inducted in the Holy Spirit Hall of Fame in October 2004. In 1998, he was inducted into the National Center for Fatherhood Hall of Fame.

Bradway serves as a member of the NFL's Diversity Committee and NFL Europe's Advisory Committee. Bradway was named Pro Football Executive of the Year in 2002 by the New Jersey Sportswriters' Association. He also hosts a weekly call-in radio program, "Jets Insider," on 1050 AM ESPN Radio during the season.

In his spare time, Bradway is an avid runner who has run in four half-marathons and also enjoys playing golf. Bradway and his wife, Kathy, have two sons, Mike and Tommy and a daughter, Jenny. Mike will enter his sophomore season as a TE at Villanova University. Bradway was born in Atlantic City, NJ.

HERM EDWARDS

HEAD COACH

FIFTH SEASON WITH JETS
26TH SEASON IN NFL
FIFTH SEASON AS HEAD COACH IN NFL

Edwards was named the Jets' 13th full-time head coach on January 18, 2001. Edwards' leadership style is a unique combination of honesty, innovation, motivation and trust. He applies a wealth of knowledge gleaned from years of playing the game at the highest level, combined with having learned the intricacies of the game from some of the most astute people in the National Football League, such as Kansas City's Dick Vermeil and Indianapolis' Tony Dungy. He also has worked alongside and for some of the most respected minds in the annals of football, including Carl Peterson, Mike White, Marion Campbell, Marty Schottenheimer, Bill Cowher, Dan Henning, Ernie Zampese, John Fox, Lovie Smith and John Fox, among others. Additionally, Edwards was teammates with some of the top players in the NFL in the late 1970's and early 1980's, including Ron Jaworski, Bill Bergey, Harold Carmichael, Wilbert Montgomery and John Bunting.

Relying on a respect-based managing style, keen preparation and a belief in his players and coaching staff, Edwards has consistently managed a diverse roster featuring solid, experienced and youthful players into believing in a common goal of reaching the post-season. Edwards has shown a willingness to rely on young players, often thrusting them into pivotal and critical roles, not shying away from the fact that their experience may hinder their playing abilities, and instead trusting in the players and standing by them.

Following his rookie season as head coach and once again after the difficult 2003 season, Edwards was rewarded by Jets' Chairman & CEO Woody Johnson, President Jay Cross and General Manager Terry Bradway with a contract extension, thus extending his contract through the 2007 season.

CAREER WITH JETS

New York Jets Head Coach Herman Edwards, who is entering his fifth season leading the Green and White, has swiftly stamped an indelible and impressive mark in the history of Jets' football. As the head coach of the Jets, Edwards has guided the Club to a 35-29 record in the regular season and a 2-3 mark in the postseason, including two AFC Divisional Playoff appearances (2002 & 2004).

Edwards' 35 regular season victories are the fourth-most wins by a head coach in Club history, trailing only the late Weeb Ewbank, a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame, (71, 1963-73), Joe Walton (53, 1983-89) and Walt Michaels (39, 1977-82). The Jets' thrilling 20-17 overtime victory at San Diego on January 8, 2005, marked the first postseason win on the road for the Jets since January 15, 1983, when the Jets defeated the Los Angeles Raiders in the venerable L.A. Coliseum, 17-14. Edwards earned his first division title with the Jets in 2002, helping to rally the team from a 2-5 start to the AFC East crown in the ultra-competitive division. The AFC East title marked the Club's second division title since the AFL-NFL merger in 1970 and the Jets' back-to-back playoff appearances were the first for the organization since the 1985-86 seasons.

Edwards, who is amongst the NFL's bright, young, innovative head coaches, began his head coaching career by posting a 10-6 record in 2001 and earning an AFC Wild Card berth at Oakland.

EDWARDS PAVES THE WAY

EDWARDS, WITH THE JETS' PLAYOFF APPEARANCE IN THE 2004 SEASON, HAS ACCOMPLISHED THE FOLLOWING FEATS:

- Became the first head coach in team annals to guide the team to the playoffs in his first season coaching the team (2001).
- The first coach in team history to take the team to the playoffs in consecutive seasons (2001-2002) to begin a tenure with the Club.
- The first coach in team history to lead the team to the playoffs in three-of-four seasons.
- The first coach in team history to advance the team to the second round of the playoffs in two-out-of-three seasons (2002 & 2004).
- The first coach to lead the Jets to three different playoff appearances (2001, 2002 & 2004).

The following season (2002) Edwards brought the Jets back from a 2-5 start and ignited the team by inserting promising young signal-caller Chad Pennington, a quarter of the way through the season. Gunning the Jets' engines through the stretch run and capturing the division with a 9-7 mark, the Jets showed their battled-tested resolve with a 41-0 AFC Wild Card victory over the Indianapolis Colts at the Meadowlands, the Jets' first ever post-season shutout. In 2003, Edwards and the Jets were unable to overcome a preseason hand injury to Pennington that sidelined the energetic QB for nearly the first half of the season and the Jets fell to 6-10, Edwards' only losing season in his head coaching tenure. Displaying the resiliency and resolve that Edwards has had throughout his life, the Jets stormed back in 2004 with a 10-6 mark, an AFC Wild Card win at San Diego in the play-offs before falling in a heart-wrenching overtime game against the AFC's top-seeded Pittsburgh Steelers, 20-17, in an AFC Divisional Playoff tilt on the road.

2004 SEASON (JETS)

Edwards piloted the Jets to a 10-6 start, becoming just the third head coach in franchise history to lead his team to double-digit wins in different seasons with the Jets. Immediately after the 2003 season, Edwards pointed to the Jets' penchant for breaking slowly out of the gate and vowed to prepare the team to get off to a quick start, which resulted in the Club's best ever start, 5-0. Edwards, perhaps one of the finest coaches in the NFL in adverse situations, helped the Jets rally from a two-game slide and the loss of Chad Pennington in early November with two big road wins in a row, thus closing out the month of November 3-2. The team was 2-2 in the month of December and posted an impressive 6-2 home record in 2004. Edwards' team maintained its highly-disciplined style of play, combining a pounding rushing game, featuring the NFL's leading rusher in '04 in Curtis Martin (1,697), and a passing attack that was without starting QB Chad Pennington for three games through the middle portion of the season.

The Jets' defense showed a marked improvement from the previous season, and surrendered an average of only 16.3 ppg, the third-lowest average of points allowed in the team's 45-year history, bested only by the mark in 1993 (15.4) and 1985 (15.9). The Jets' defense limited opposing offenses to a 38.0 % conversion success on third downs and surrendered more than 20 points in a game only five times throughout the season (weeks one, two, 10, 16 and 17).

2003 SEASON (JETS)

The Jets' 2003 season got off to a rocky start in the third preseason contest against the New York Giants when QB Chad Pennington suffered a fractured hand that required immediate surgery and shelved him for nearly half of the season. The Jets fell into a hole and finished with a 6-10 record. Edwards, though, responded by keeping the Jets competitive through the entire season, with wins at Oakland in overtime (11/2/03), a thrilling comeback win over the Jaguars (11/23/03) and an emotional Monday Night home game against the Tennessee Titans, 24-17, as well as a win against the Pittsburgh Steelers, 6-0, in a driving snowstorm (12/14/03) at the Meadowlands, the Jets' first win against the Steelers since 1988. Edwards, following the season, vowed that he would increase measures to insure the team got off to a quicker start the following season and also took measures to improve the Jets' defensive style and brought in aggressive first-year defensive coordinator Donnie Henderson from the Baltimore Ravens.

2002 SEASON (JETS)

Edwards was one of just two AFC coaches to take his Club to back-to-back playoff appearances in 2001 and 2002, joining Pittsburgh's Bill Cowher (the Oakland Raiders also accomplished the feat, in 2001 under Jon Gruden and in 2002 under Bill Callahan). As the head coach, Edwards guided the Jets to the best regular-season road record in his first two seasons (11-5).

The always quotable and insightful Edwards and his now-famous mantra, "You Play to Win The Game," was one of the most lasting memories of the 2002 NFL season and became the Jets' rallying cry for their remarkable second half of the season comeback, turning a tumultuous 2-5 start into a stretch where the Jets captured seven of their last nine games, earning the division title.

The Jets' 2002 AFC East title was a product of the team winning eight of the last 10 regular season games, seven of the last nine, three of the last four and four in a row at home. In addition, the Jets' 41-0 playoff win over the Indianapolis Colts in the postseason was the first playoff shutout in Club history and marked the second-most points scored in a shutout win in NFL annals, while the 41 points scored were the second most in team history in a playoff game.

2001 SEASON (JETS)

In Edwards' first season with the Jets (2001) he oversaw the implementation of new offensive, defensive and special teams philosophies. Edwards kept a forceful hand on the controls and guided the Jets to their first playoff appearance since 1998. Edwards was the only coach out of six newcomers in their first year with their respective teams in 2001 to earn a playoff spot. Besides his 10-win season, perhaps the most indicative statistic supporting the effectiveness and diligence of Edwards' coaching style was the discipline the team displayed, garnering an NFL-low 63 penalties for a league-low 507 yards.

The Jets set a franchise mark for most road wins in a season, 7-1, which topped their 5-2 record in 1968. Additionally, the Green and White's 7-1 road record tied them with Philadelphia for the second-most wins in 2001 (STL, 8-0).

Edwards' 2001 Jets led the NFL in turnover differential with a +18, a margin of one over their closest rival, Edwards' former club, Tampa Bay, who finished with a +17 ratio. The Jets produced the second-most take-aways (39) in the AFC and tied with the Bucs for second most in the NFL behind Cleveland's 42. The Jets also proved to be frugal in turning the ball over, relinquishing it just 21 times all season, tied for the fewest in the AFC with Seattle and Pittsburgh and trailed only San Francisco's 19 in the NFL.

Edwards received numerous accolades throughout his rookie coaching campaign for his willingness and cooperation with the media. He was awarded the Staples NFL Coach of the Week Award following the Jets' 21-17 comeback win over the Miami Dolphins on October 14, 2001.

TAMPA BAY (1996-2000)

The former NFL standout defensive back earned the reputation as an excellent communicator and one of the best teachers during his time spent as assistant head coach/defensive backfield coach of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers (1996-2000). At Tampa, he worked closely with current Indianapolis Colts and former Bucs' head coach Tony Dungy in the day-to-day administrative dealings associated with the head coach's role.

While with the Bucs, Edwards helped the secondary become one of the NFL's consistently top-ranked units. In 2000, CB Donnie Abraham (team-high 7 INT) and FS John Lynch (3 INT) each earned Pro Bowl recognition. Collectively, the group recorded 25 INT, which tied for first in the NFC and third in the NFL while the Bucs' 41 take-aways tied for second in the NFC and fourth in the NFL. The Bucs' defense also finished +17 in the plus/minus category, tops in the NFC and tied for third best in the NFL. The Bucs' defense finished fourth in the NFC in total defense, allowing 300.0 yards per game (ninth in NFL). Under his tutelage the Bucs finished in the top 10 in pass defense in four-of-the-five seasons. Edwards had a major hand in overseeing the NFL's second-ranked pass defenses in both 1998 and 1999.

Under Edwards' mentoring, Lynch earned three Pro Bowl berths (2000, 1999 and 1998) and Abraham earned one (2000), marking the first Pro Bowl appearances by a member of the Tampa Bay defensive backfield since Wayne Haddix in 1990. In 1999, Edwards' troops turned in a stellar effort in the playoffs, holding the second-ranked Washington Redskins' passing attack to a mere 121 passing yards and the top-ranked St. Louis offense to just 258 yards through the air. His 1998 group, despite battling through a rash of injuries and the integration of young players, managed to surrender an average of just 172.6 yards per game, the Club's best single-season showing since 1982.

In 1997, the Bucs' secondary completed its second consecutive stellar performance under Edwards, finishing in the top 10 in pass defense. In his first season with Tampa Bay (1996), Edwards led the group to a fourth-place ranking in pass defense by limiting opponents to just 182.8 passing yards per game.

KANSAS CITY (1990-95)
Edwards joined the Buccaneers after working the previous six years (1990-95) in several different capacities with the Kansas City Chiefs. In 1995, he worked as a scout in the pro personnel department and from 1992-94 he served as the Chiefs' DB coach. He was credited with the development of CB Dale Carter, the AFC's Defensive Rookie of the Year in 1992 and S Charles Mincy, while also coaching Pro Bowlers S Kevin Ross and CB Albert Lewis. In each of his three seasons as the Chiefs' defensive backfield coach, KC ranked in the NFL's top three in take-aways and in the top 10 in pass defense. The 1992 season saw the Chiefs lead the AFC, and finish second in the NFL, in pass defense, surrendering a mere 158.6 yards per game.

In 1990-91, Edwards was a talent scout for the Chiefs while also serving as an assistant to Tony Dungy, then the Chiefs' DB coach. It was also at that time Edwards had the opportunity to closely work with Jets' General Manager Terry Bradway, who was then working in the personnel department of the Chiefs. Edwards initially worked for the Chiefs in the summer of 1989 as the recipient of the team's Minority Coaching Fellowship.

SAN DIEGO STATE (1987-89)
Edwards began his coaching career at San Jose State as the DB coach from 1987-89. During each of his three seasons at SJSU, the Spartans' opponents completed less than 50% of their passes.

PLAYING YEARS (1977-86)
As a player, Edwards played 10 seasons in the NFL, including nine with the Philadelphia Eagles (1977-85), after signing as a rookie free agent following his collegiate career. He was signed as a rookie by current Chiefs' President and General Manager Carl Peterson, who at the time was the Eagles' director of player personnel. He went on to earn a starting CB position in his first preseason game and proceeded to start the next 135 regular season games during his Eagle career. His career was highlighted by second-team All-NFC honors in 1980 and 1982 and an appearance in Super Bowl XV, a 27-10 Raiders win over the Eagles. He departed Philadelphia with 33 career INT, which currently ranks third in the Eagles' record books. In addition, he recorded five post-season INT, and when combined with his regular-season INT total, his 38 INT stand as a team-record.

Edwards gained fame for one of the most memorable plays in Meadowlands history when he recovered a fumble by NY Giants' QB Joe Pisarcik and returned it 26 yards for a touchdown with 31 seconds remaining in Philadelphia's 19-17 "Miracle in the Meadowlands" win on November 19, 1978.

In his final NFL season as a player, Edwards' played in four games for the Los Angeles Rams and three for the Atlanta Falcons, before announcing his retirement during the season on November 11, 1986.

COLLEGE (1972-76)
Edwards began his college career at the University of California-Berkeley and played there in 1972 and 1974. He earned Pac-8 (now Pac-10) honors and set a Golden Bears' record with four INT in one game. He played the 1973 season at Monterey Peninsula Junior College and his senior season at San Diego State.

PERSONAL

Cleveland's Romeo Crennel and San Francisco's Mike Nolan are entering their first seasons with their respective teams in their current capacity.

JETS PLUS/MINUS UNDER EDWARDS: In four seasons under Coach Edwards, the Jets are +39 in the give-away/take-away category. In 2004, the Jets were second in the AFC and second overall in the NFL with a +17 ratio in the give-away/take-away category. Only the Indianapolis Colts' +18 margin was greater than the Jets' in the AFC while CAR was +15 in the NFC. One of the most important edicts of Edwards' coaching career with the Jets is taking care of the football from an offensive standpoint, while trying to create as many turnovers as possible from a defensive perspective.

In Edwards' first season with the Green and White (2001), the Jets led the NFL with a +18 ratio, the best mark in team history. In his second season (2002) as Head Coach, the Jets were +4. Last season the Jets finished the season even in the ratio.

In 2004, the Jets forced 33 take-aways, including a forced fumble that was returned 41 yards for a TD in the game one win over CIN and a timely INT late in the fourth quarter that squashed the Bengals' comeback attempt. At SD in game two, the Jets did not commit a single turnover and forced four Charger turnovers (two INT, two FR). In game three at MIA, CB Donnie Abraham returned an INT 66 yards for his second score of the season, LB Victor Hobson intercepted a pass and the team forced two fumbles which the Green and White recovered. The Jets ended up +3 on the day. The Jets were -1 in game four vs. Buffalo but ended up capturing the win. Against the 49ers in week five, the Jets forced a Tim Rattay INT late in the fourth quarter that helped seal the Jets' victory, and didn't turn the ball over the entire game adding a late FR (Jason Glenn) on the 49ers' desperation last play to thwart their potential "Stanford Band Play." The Jets lost a fumble at New England in game six and also recovered a fumble defensively, thus drawing even in the takeaway/giveaway department. The Jets were +3 in their Monday Night trouncing of the Dolphins (two INT & one FR with zero give-aways). The Jets were a -2 in game eight at Buffalo. The Jets drew even in game nine vs. Baltimore, forcing and recovering a fumble on special teams and committing an INT late in the first half on a half back option. In game 10 at Cleveland, the Jets forced a fumble for the second consecutive week on special teams (punt coverage team) and committed one give-away, an INT. Neither the take-away nor the give-away, though, resulted in any points for either team in the low scoring affair. In the team's win at ARI in game 11, the Jets didn't turn the ball over and took the ball away from the Cardinals four times (three INT and a FF and recovered). They won the turnover battle in a 29-7 win over HOU with two INT to the one they threw to the Texans. The Jets fell short in the turnover battle at PIT when they were intercepted three times while "Gang Green's" defense collected two INT of their own, leaving the Jets at a -1 for the game. The Green and White responded with a +3 showing (two fumbles and one INT) in their 37-14 throttling of the Seahawks in game 14. In game 15, the Jets were -3 in the give-away department with two INT and one lost fumble while not capitalizing on any fumble recoveries or INT. The Jets created two INT and a FF at STL and didn't turn the ball over in the season finale.

NO FLAG ON THE PLAY; JETS LEAST PENALIZED TEAM UNDER EDWARDS BY A LANDSLIDE: In 2004, the New York Jets committed the second-fewest penalties (91) for the second-fewest penalty yards (693) in the NFL. The NFL average through Monday, January 2 was 111.6 penalties for 913 yards. Only Seattle, with 79 penalties for 669 yards had fewer penalties and yards against.

Last season, the New York Jets committed the fewest penalties in the NFL for the fewest yards, a trend that is a direct testament to Head Coach Herm Edwards and the discipline instills into the team.

In 2003, the Jets were penalized 65 times for 510 yards, while the NFL average was 98.9 penalties for 824.3 yards. The Jets averaged a mere 4.3 penalties per game for 34.0 yards, while the League average was 6.6 infractions per contest for 55.0 yards per game.

In 2002, the Jets were guilty of the third-fewest penalties (79) in the NFL for the second-fewest yards penalized (685). GAME ONE: CINCINNATI 24 AT JETS 31

SEPTEMBER 12, 2004 - EAST RUTHERFORD, NEW JERSEY - Curtis Martin got the New York Jets off to a good start. Martin rushed for 196 yards on 29 carries and scored two touchdowns as the Jets snapped a seven-game losing streak in September with a 31-24 victory over the Cincinnati Bengals . After Cincinnati took an early 7-0 lead on a nine-yard run by Rudi Johnson, Martin caught a three-yard pass from Chad Pennington with 8:48 remaining in the first quarter to even the score. Martin added a 24-yard scoring rush in the fourth quarter that gave the Jets a 31-17 advantage. "I knew I was ready to go and when you know you are ready, your confidence is higher," said Martin, who reached the century mark for the 48th time in his career. "I kept telling my offensive line 'thanks, good blocks.' They did a great job, but there are 15 more games to go and we need to keep it up." It is Martin's third highest rushing total, and his most since he had 203 against Indianapolis in 2000. The Jets improved their overall opening-week record to 19-26. "In my four years here, this is my first opening day win at home," Edwards said. "It feels good. I'm proud of the way our men played today. They faced adversity and never quit. I couldn't ask more of them." Pennington, who played in his first Opening Day, performed well in his first game since signing a seven-year, $64 million contract in the preseason. He completed 20-of-27 passes for 224 yards and two touchdowns - including a 46-yarder to Jonathan Carter in the second quarter. "(Martin) drives our offense," Pennington said. "As he goes so do we and today was no different. But there are times when the passing game is going to have to pick up the slack. One thing about this team is we need to complement each other. I have a lot of work to do with my receivers, but today was a nice start." Pennington out-dueled Bengals quarterback Carson Palmer , who was making his NFL debut. The first overall pick in the 2003 draft, Palmer completed 17-of-25 passes for 248 yards and two touchdowns, but was intercepted by Jets rookie safety Erik Coleman with two minutes left to seal the victory for New York. Palmer was especially looking for Chad Johnson , who led all receivers with 99 yards on five catches. "Every play I tried to figure out where (Johnson) was," Coleman said. "They were in a tight formation and I saw him release free. I had to stay calm and read his hips. Fortunately, I was able to get a good break on it and make the play." The Jets' defense contributed to the cause early in the third quarter when cornerback Donnie Abraham returned a fumble by Rudi Johnson 41 yards for a touchdown that gave New York a 21-10 advantage.

GAME TWO: JETS 34 AT SAN DIEGO 28

SEPTEMBER 19, 2004 - SAN DIEGO, CALIFORNIA - It didn't take Curtis Martin and the New York Jets long to knock the San Diego Chargers back to reality. Martin scored on the Jets' first two possessions and became the team's all-time rushing leader, helping New York to a 34-28 win over the Chargers on Sunday. Martin scored on runs of 1 and 2 yards and finished with 119 yards on 32 carries. With 8,185 yards in seven seasons with the Jets, he broke Freeman McNeil's old team record of 8,074. Martin has 11,984 yards in 10 NFL seasons, good for 11th on the all-time list. Next up is Thurman Thomas with 12,074. Chad Pennington threw two touchdown passes for the Jets (2-0), and safety Erik Coleman had an interception and a fumble recovery. Brees was pulled for 41-year-old Doug Flutie with less than four minutes to go and the Chargers trailing 34-21. Brees wasn't happy about it, throwing his helmet on the sideline and having a heated discussion with coach Marty Schottenheimer. Flutie scored on a 6-yard run with 30 seconds left. New York's Wayne Chrebet recovered the ensuing onside kick. Brees was benched for five games last year and yanked from two others, and the Chargers acquired Philip Rivers in the first round of April's draft, only to have him miss most of training camp in a contract holdout. Brees hit LaDainian Tomlinson for a 59-yard gain, which set up Tomlinson's 4-yard TD run late in the third to cut a 20-point deficit to 27-14. Pennington gave the Jets a cushion with a 1-yard TD throw to tight end Chris Baker with 3:56 left. Pennington was 22-of-29 for 258 yards. Tomlinson had 87 yards on 19 carries and 76 yards on three catches. The Chargers have lost 20 of their last 27 games under Schottenheimer, including going an NFL-worst 4-12 last year. It was the Jets who started the Chargers on their free-fall, defeating them 44-13 here on Nov. 3, 2002. New York picked right up from that win, which helped propel them to the AFC East title that year. Martin broke McNeil's record with an 11-yard gain on his first run of the day, giving the Jets the first of four straight first downs. He capped the drive with a 1-yard run for a 7-0 lead. The Jets got the ball right back when Coleman intercepted Brees at the San Diego 44, setting up Martin's 2-yard run for a 14-0 lead with 3:42 left in the first quarter. Doug Brien's 28-yard field goal, set up by Eric Parker's fumble on a punt return, gave the Jets a 17-0 lead in the second quarter. San Diego got some momentum when Tim Dwight returned the ensuing kickoff 87 yards for a touchdown.

GAME THREE: JETS 17 AT MIAMI 9

OCTOBER 3, 2004 - MIAMI - The New York Jets traveled to Miami and defeated the Dolphins, 17-9, in a hard-fought defensive battle. The Jets limited the Dolphins to only three filed goals on the afternoon. Miami QB Jay Fiedler threw a game-changing interception early in the third quarter that was returned 66 yards for a touchdown by cornerback Donnie Abraham as the New York Jets posted a 17-9 victory over the offensively challenged Dolphins. The Jets improved to 3-0 for just the third time in franchise history. They have home games against Buffalo and San Francisco the next two weeks. "This is the goal we set out for ourselves in training camp," Jets defensive end Jason Ferguson said. "We're enjoying it, but only for a short time because we know we have to keep going." The Jets used an efficient ground game to keep the clock and field position on their side. Curtis Martin topped 100 yards rushing for the third straight game, the first time he has done that since 1999. He carried 24 times for 110 yards, including a one-yard touchdown run in the first quarter. "We came down here with the mindset that it wasn't going to be a high-scoring affair," Jets coach Herman Edwards said. "We stayed patient on offense and only turned the ball over once. The best thing we did was take the ball away, and we've done that the last three games." Fiedler also made the game's biggest mistake. With the Dolphins trailing, 10-9, the veteran signal-caller lofted a pass intended for fullback Rob Konrad that Abraham stepped in front of and raced untouched down the right sideline. "We had watched a lot of film on them and knew what they were going to do in that (offensive) set," Abraham said. "My eyes opened pretty wide. I just thought to myself, 'Don't drop it.'" The Jets' defense didn't give up much. Leonard Henry popped off a 53-yard run in the second quarter that led to a field goal, and that was about the only offensive highlight for the Dolphins. "We played our style of defense. We didn't let them breathe," said rookie linebacker Jonathan Vilma , who was returning home after a standout career at the University of Miami. "They hit us with one big run, but it didn't end up hurting us." Fiedler and Feeley now have thrown three interceptions that have been returned for scores. "We lost, and I'm disappointed," Fiedler said. "We had some problems in the red zone, unable to capitalize down in that territory by scoring touchdowns. We came up with three points a few times when we needed seven." Fiedler finished 18-of-33 for 206 yards with two interceptions and lost two fumbles. Olindo Mare kicked three field goals. It was the 50th career 100-yard game for Martin, who moved past Thurman Thomas and into 10th place on the NFL's all-time rushing list. Martin has rushed for 12,094 yards. "What I'm doing is a byproduct of what the offensive line is doing," Martin said. "They did a good job against a terrific defense. As far as me, physically, I feel as good as I ever have at any time in my career. I can't explain it other than to say it's because of hard work that I've put in. It's gratifying to see it paying off."

GAME FOUR: JETS 16 VS BUFFALO 14

OCTOBER 10, 2004 - EAST RUTHERFORD, NEW JERSEY - Earlier in the week, New York Jets coach Herman Edwards went around the locker room trying to give his players an index card with the following message: "If you are scared to go 4-0, call the police." There were no takers. It was easy to see why Sunday against the Buffalo Bills. Down 14-13 with 5:58 to go, Chad Pennington calmly led his team 60 yards to set up the winning field goal. Doug Brien nailed the 38-yarder with 58 seconds remaining to lift the Jets to a 16-14 victory, moving them to 4-0 for the second time in franchise history. "I had a bunch of them made and said, 'If you are scared now, you can take these cards and no one will know you called them," Edwards said. "They all looked at me like I was crazy. That's the kind of team we have become. We believe in each other, we believe we can get it done." Pennington went 31-of-42 for 304 yards with a touchdown and an interception, but his biggest plays came at the end, after Buffalo (0-4) scored two fourth-quarter touchdowns to take the lead. He went 7-of-8 for 51 yards on the winning drive. Brien got a little redemption, making up for a 29-yard miss earlier in the game. "You have to go out there and kick it like you're kicking a ball in your back yard," Brien said. "I knew I hit it true. It just seemed like it hung up there for 5 seconds." The Bills have lost three times by three points or less. They were poised to win this one, and it all started after Jeff Posey intercepted Pennington early in the fourth. Buffalo quickly converted. Willis McGahee had a 21-yard run on third-and-9 from the Jets 37, and the Bills scored on the next play when Bledsoe threw a 16-yard pass to Mark Campbell. The Bills took the lead when Bledsoe connected with Lee Evans on a 46-yard touchdown pass with 5:58 remaining. Coach Mike Mularkey had gathered his team around late in the third quarter and chewed them out for their inconsistency. Travis Henry said it worked. "He got everybody up," Henry said. "He told us we were still in the game. It was effective. He got us together and guys stepped up and held their ground." It wasn't enough. Bledsoe finished 16-of-29 for 197 yards. Henry, who usually gives the Jets fits, had 12 carries for 33 yards and was limited in the second half by an ankle injury. McGahee had eight carries for 42 yards. Buffalo also had seven penalties for 83 yards and converted 5-of-13 third downs. Curtis Martin had his string of three straight 100-yard rushing games broken, gaining 77 yards on 22 carries. But he did pass Franco Harris into ninth place on the NFL career rushing list with a 9-yard run in the second quarter. Martin has 12,171 yards. With the Bills defense shutting down Martin, Pennington found Wayne Chrebet plenty. Chrebet finished with eight catches for 90 yards - his highest yardage total since getting 118 against Indianapolis on Dec. 23, 2001. "For me, it's extra special to come back and do whatever I can to contribute," said Chrebet, bothered by post-concussion syndrome for most of last season. "This is why I came back, to have that feeling out there." John Abraham had three sacks, a week after getting two against Miami. The Jets had plenty of missed opportunities. Chris Baker fumbled at the Bills 12 to stall a drive in the second quarter. In the third quarter, the Jets started two drives in Buffalo territory, but settled for just a 36-yard field goal by Brien. They took advantage when it counted most. "We know we still have some work we can do," Pennington said. "We left some points on the field - that's what we have to focus on."

GAME FIVE: JETS 22 AT SAN FRANCISCO 14

OCTOBER 17, 2004 - EAST RUTHERFORD, NEW JERSEY - Chad Pennington led the New York Jets on a second-half comeback. Rookie Jonathan Vilma sealed it. The Jets overcame a 14-3 halftime deficit and Vilma intercepted Tim Rattay's poorly thrown pass with 1:44 to go, helping New York make franchise history with a 22-14 victory Sunday. Though they floundered for the first half, the Jets are 5-0 for the first time thanks to a strong effort after the break. Curtis Martin finished with 111 yards on 25 carries and two touchdowns, passing Marcus Allen (12,243) for eighth place on the NFL career rushing list. Martin now has 12,282 career yards. Pennington went 20-of-30 for 222 yards, but went 11-of-14 for 117 yards in the second half. Rattay had a stellar first half, but could not get anything going in the second, finishing 18-of-28 for 286 yards with a touchdown and the costly interception. After getting the ball back on his 35 down 15-14 with less than 2 minutes remaining, Vilma picked off the pass that ended any hope of a San Francisco rally. Martin ran in from 9 yards for the final margin. Early on, San Francisco (1-5) took advantage of the weakest part of the Jets' defense, the secondary. On the first scoring drive, Rattay threw a beautiful pass down the middle to Brandon Lloyd, who easily ran in for a 33-yard touchdown. The Niners scored again on their next drive when Rattay found Arnaz Battle for a 65 yard reception to the Jets 2. Kevan Barlow scored on the next play, capping the 88-yard drive for a 14-0 lead. Rattay had 193 yards passing in the first half. But there was plenty of time left for New York. The Jets began their comeback on their first drive of the third quarter. Starting from their 9, Pennington calmly marched them downfield and converted two big third downs. LaMont Jordan caught a 6-yard pass from Pennington on third-and-5 from the 49ers 31, and Jordan scored on a 17-yard run two plays later. He failed to get in on the 2-point conversion and the Jets trailed 14-9. After forcing San Francisco to punt, Pennington went to work again, leading the Jets 70 yards. He threw a 22-yard completion to Justin McCareins and 11-yarders to Martin and Chris Baker before Martin scored from the 1. Pennington threw incomplete on the 2-point conversion. San Francisco had its chances. After Toby Gowin's punt went 31 yards, the 49ers got the ball at their 38 with 7:38 to go. They drove to the Jets 27 before Battle fumbled the toss from Rattay on an end-around and lost 8 yards, knocking them out of field goal range. The Jets did a good job of containing tight end Eric Johnson, who came into the game leading the NFL in receiving. Johnson, playing despite cracked ribs, had four catches for 24 yards. New York played without Santana Moss, out with a right hamstring strain, and starting guards Pete Kendall and Brandon Moore. Making matters worse for the injury-depleted 49ers, cornerback Ahmed Plummer left early in the fourth quarter with a bruised thigh. They had three defensive players inactive and already were without defensive ends Andre Carter (back) and Andrew Williams (shin), and linebacker Julian Peterson (Achilles' tendon) and cornerback Mike Rumph (arm).

GAME SIX: JETS 7 VS NEW ENGLAND 13

OCTOBER 24, 2004 - FOXBORO, MA - Rodney Harrison broke up a fourth-down pass from Chad Pennington with 2:14 remaining, and the New England Patriots held on to extend their NFL victory streak to 21 games in a 13-7 win over the AFC East rival New York Jets. The Patriots also set the regular-season mark of 18 straight wins, surpassing the 17 won by the 1933-34 Chicago Bears. They also moved to 6-0 for the first time in franchise history while handing the Jets (5-1) their first loss this season. The matchup of unbeatens was the first pitting two undefeated teams with five or more wins since the Minnesota Vikings and Los Angeles Rams were both 6-0 going into a game Oct. 28, 1973. The game lived up to the hype, and turned into a defensive struggle in the second half. New England led 13-7 at the break and could not muster much on offense in the second half. Neither could the Jets until late in the fourth quarter. Facing fourth-and-1 from their own 23, coach Herman Edwards decided to go for it with 6:55 remaining. Pennington made the first down on a 2-yard sneak. The Jets then marched down to the Patriots 27. Richard Seymour made a crucial play on third-and-5, forcing Curtis Martin to lose 3 yards on a run. On fourth down, Pennington tried to throw to Wayne Chrebet, but Harrison was there to make the play. Tom Brady finished 20-of-29 for 230 yards and a touchdown, while Corey Dillon had 22 carries for 115 yards, the first 100-yard runner the Jets have allowed all season. David Givens also had the second 100-yard day of his career, finishing with five catches for 107 yards. Martin passed Jim Brown for seventh place on the NFL career rushing list in the second quarter. He had 70 yards on 20 carries and now has 12,382 career yards, compared to Brown's 12,312. Edwards said before the game his team would have to limit its mistakes to have a good chance of winning. But miscues did them in. Two costly penalties led to 10 points in the second quarter. Early in the period, the Jets were flagged for too many men on the field on fourth-and-1, giving the Patriots a first down at their own 48. New England converted the mistake into three points, when Adam Vinatieri made a 27-yard field goal to make it 6-0. After Pennington scored on a 1-yard bootleg run to put the Jets up 7-6, New England got the ball back with 1:55 left before halftime. Brady expertly ran the two-minute offense, moving the Patriots down to the Jets 13 with 18 seconds to go. On the next play, tackle Dewayne Robertson was whistled for roughing the passer for hitting Brady after the quarterback released the ball. New England got the ball at the 7, and Brady connected with David Patten for the 7-yard score with 5 seconds left in the quarter to give the Patriots the lead back. The Jets also had their first drive of the game squelched because of a mistake, and it came at the hands of the league-best New England red zone defense. Ted Johnson forced Jerald Sowell to fumble at the Patriots 15, and Randall Gay recovered. Both teams played without several starters. Patriots receivers Troy Brown (shoulder) and Deion Branch (knee), and fullback Patrick Pass (thigh) and cornerback Tyrone Poole (knee) were inactive, while Jets right guard Brandon Moore missed his second straight game with a strained left hamstring. With Pass out, the Patriots used tackle/linebacker Dan Klecko at fullback. Klecko had two receptions but lost a fumble and was injured on the play.

GAME SEVEN: JETS 41 VS MIAMI 14

NOVEMBER 1, 2004 - EAST RUTHERFORD, NEW JERSEY - No miracles needed this time. Curtis Martin and LaMont Jordan each ran for 115 yards and a score to help the New York Jets rout the Miami Dolphins 41-14. The last time the teams met on Monday night, the Jets erased a 23-point, fourth-quarter deficit for a 40-37 overtime win in 2000 in what is known as the "Monday Night Miracle." There was no chance of a comeback this time around. The Jets (6-1) scored 34 unanswered points, stifling the ineffective Dolphins offense and pounding the proud Miami defense, which entered the game ranked fourth in the NFL. New York entered the game after its first loss of the season, 13-7 to New England last weekend, but turned in its most complete performance of the year. The last time the Jets had two 100-yard rushers in a game was Sept. 28, 1975, when John Riggins ran for 145 yards and Carl Garrett had 135 in a 30-24 win over Kansas City. Miami (1-7) last allowed two 100-yard rushers on Oct. 29, 1989, at Buffalo, when Thurman Thomas had 148 yards and Larry Kinnebrew added 121. "It was great," Jets right tackle Kareem McKenzie said. "A lot of things went well for us. It felt good to get two backs over 100 yards. That's the first time it's happened in my career." Chad Pennington threw three touchdown passes and went 11 of 19 for 189 yards before being lifted for Quincy Carter in the fourth quarter. The Jets finished with 472 yards of total offense. "They gave us an old-fashioned beating," Dolphins linebacker Junior Seau said. "I tip my hat to them." The Jets defense harassed Jay Fiedler the entire game, sacking the Dolphins quarterback four times and picking him off twice. Miami got a late score as the game ended, when Fiedler threw a 29-yard touchdown pass to Derrius Thompson. Fiedler finished 20 of 41 for 218 yards. Pennington connected on one big passing play after another on the vaunted Miami secondary, repeatedly taking advantage of the Dolphins' cornerbacks. Coming into the game, no Jets wide receiver had a touchdown reception yet this season. But that quickly changed. After Donald Lee fumbled a reception when Eric Barton hit him, Reggie Tongue recovered at the Jets 48. Pennington needed three plays to convert the turnover into points, throwing a 35-yard touchdown pass to Wayne Chrebet to make it 7-0 in the first quarter. It was Chrebet's first touchdown since the third week of last season. After Randy McMichael caught a 21-yard scoring pass from Fiedler to cap a 91-yard drive and tie the game at 7 in the second, the Jets took over. Pennington answered with a 27-yard scoring pass to Justin McCareins, who took advantage when Madison fell down. McCareins toed the line to stay in bounds at the 2 and stretched the ball into the end zone for his first touchdown as a Jet. They added to the lead just before the break, going 39 yards in four plays in only 20 seconds. Doug Brien kicked a 49-yard field goal as time expired in the half to make it 17-7. The Jets got possession first to start the second half and kept rolling. Martin scored on a 25-yard run to make it 24-7. They scored again on their next drive, when Pennington threw a 1-yard touchdown pass to Chris Baker. Pennington had a 47-yard throw to Santana Moss on the drive. Jordan got the reigns after Martin exited the game with 19 carries and a bruised knee that is not considered serious. It was more of the same with the backup running back in the game. He scored on a 25-yard run early in the fourth quarter, putting him over 100 yards for the game, and finished with 14 carries.

GAME EIGHT: BUFFALO 22 VS JETS 17

NOVEMBER 7, 2004 - ORCHARD PARK, NY - The wind and Willis McGahee are providing a formidable one-two punch for the Buffalo Bills. Negating the effects of 25-plus mph winds blowing off Lake Erie, McGahee led Buffalo's ball-control offense with a career-high 132 yards rushing and a touchdown in the Bills' 22-17 win over the New York Jets on Sunday. "He can run," left tackle Jonas Jennings said. "He's got vision. Our job is to get him past the first level, and he and the receivers do the rest." McGahee continued to downplay his string of strong performances. The starter in all three victories for Buffalo (3-5), McGahee has had 100 yards or more each time. "We're all getting comfortable right now," said McGahee, who supplanted Travis Henry as the starter two weeks ago. McGahee's 37 carries tied him for second most in a game in Bills history. O.J. Simpson, with 39, holds the record. That's impressive for Buffalo's 2003 first-round pick who missed his rookie season recovering from reconstructive knee surgery. Buffalo won its third game in four outings and third straight at home. And the weather has been a factor in all three with strong winds swirling around Ralph Wilson Stadium. "We're supposed to be a bad-weather team," receiver Eric Moulds said. "Teams don't want to come in here and play in this situation. We know that, and we have to use it to our advantage." The problems for the Jets (6-2) might be worse than the game's outcome. Quarterback Chad Pennington bruised his right shoulder and did not return after he was sacked for a 13-yard loss midway through the fourth quarter. He will have further tests today but plans to play Sunday against Baltimore.

GAME NINE: BALTIMORE 20 VS JETS 17

NOVEMBER 14, 2004 - EAST RUTHERFORD, NEW JERSEY - Matt Stover and the Baltimore Ravens ruined Quincy Carter's first start for the New York Jets. Stover kicked a 42-yard field goal with 7:39 remaining in overtime to lift the Ravens to a 20-17 victory over the Jets on Sunday. Last year, Stover kicked two game-winning field goals in overtime for Baltimore. Kyle Boller got the Ravens in position for the winning score by converting a third-and-5 from the Baltimore 49 with a 21-yard pass to Kevin Johnson. Boller then completed a 10-yard pass to Travis Taylor on third-and-14 from the Jets 34 to put the Ravens (6-3) in field goal range. Boller was 19-of-33 for 213 yards with two touchdowns, both to rookie Clarence Moore. Jamal Lewis had 30 carries for 68 yards. Carter, who started for the Jets (6-3) because Chad Pennington is out with a strained right rotator cuff, was 13-of-22 for 175 yards, but just 5-of-14 for 43 yards after halftime. Curtis Martin helped the Jets build a 14-0 lead in the first quarter, but also was ineffective after the break. He finished with 28 carries for 119 yards and two scores. Baltimore scored 17 unanswered points to take a 17-14 lead when Boller threw a 16-yard touchdown pass to Moore with 4:13 remaining. The Jets fought back to force overtime. LaMont Jordan returned the ensuing kickoff 40 yards to give the Jets possession at their 45. Carter converted a third-and-7 from the 48 with a 14-yard pass to Justin McCareins. Martin followed with a 21-yard run to the Ravens 21. Carter got the ball to the 4 when he ran 9 yards on a draw on third down, but the drive stalled there. The Jets had a third-and-goal from the 3 with 8 seconds left following an incompletion by Carter, but used their final timeout and sent Doug Brien on to kick a 20-yard field goal rather than make one last attempt at a winning touchdown. Leading 14-0, the Jets drove to the Ravens 17 following a 47-yard pass from Carter to Santana Moss. Rather than relying on conventional play calling to build on their lead, the Jets called a halfback option pass from LaMont Jordan. Ed Reed intercepted the ball in the end zone. Though his 104-yard touchdown return was negated because safety Will Demps was called for holding, Baltimore took over with 1:26 left in the half at the Jets 36. Boller converted a fourth-and-8 from the Jets 34 with a 23-yard pass to Chester Taylor. Boller then threw a 6-yard TD pass to Moore just before halftime to cut the lead to 14-7. The Ravens played without cornerback Deion Sanders (toe), tackle Jonathan Ogden (hamstring) and tight end Todd Heap (ankle). They also lost punter Dave Zastudil a left shoulder injury during the game, leaving backup quarterback Kordell Stewart to take over punting duties.

GAME TEN: JETS 10 AT CLEVELAND 7

NOVEMBER 21, 2004 - CLEVELAND - Quincy Carter threw an 11-yard touchdown pass to Justin McCareins with 5:32 remaining as the New York Jets bounced back with a 10-7 win over the Cleveland Browns on Sunday. Sacked six times and under pressure all afternoon, Carter completed a crucial third-and-11 pass to McCareins, who stretched out to pick up the first down at Cleveland's 24. After a 13-yard pass to Santana Moss, Carter hit McCareins, who stepped out of a tackle and went in for the TD. New York's LaMont Jordan, filling in for a banged-up Curtis Martin, rushed for 61 yards in the fourth quarter. He ground out 34 yards as the Jets ran out the final 3:55 to hand the Browns (3-7) their fourth straight loss. Safety Erik Coleman had a key sack to end Cleveland's final drive. Martin rushed for 88 yards on 17 carries. In the first quarter, he went over 1,000 this season and joined Hall of Famer Barry Sanders as the only players in NFL history to begin their careers with 10 straight 1,000-yard seasons. However, Martin bruised his right knee in the second quarter and carried it just twice in the fourth as the Jets rode the powerful Jordan, who came in with 180 yards this season. Quarterback Jeff Garcia didn't play after halftime after injuring his throwing shoulder late in the first half. Kelly Holcomb couldn't rally Cleveland, completing just 4 of 10 passes for 32 yards. Browns kicker Phil Dawson missed two field goals. He entered the game having made 27 in a row, the NFL's longest current streak. Dawson's miss with 11:27 left gave the ball to the Jets at their 25. Jordan powered up the middle on four straight runs as New York moved into Cleveland territory. Carter, who finished 11-of-20 for 116 yards, then had three straight completions to cap a scoring drive that kept New York in the thick of the AFC playoff race. New York pulled within 7-3 in the third quarter on Doug Brien's 41-yard field goal. The Browns, who came in with just 14 sacks, got to Carter five times in the first half while holding the anemic Jets to just 79 yards. New York's biggest gain of the first half was a 19-yard run by Martin on the final play of the first quarter. Garcia's 3-yard TD pass to Steve Heiden gave the Browns a 7-0 lead in the second quarter. Unable to move the ball the first four times they had it, the Browns finally put a drive together, helped by a 15-yard penalty against defensive end Shaun Ellis for his helmet-on-helmet hit on Garcia.

GAME ELEVEN: JETS 13 AT ARIZONA 3

NOVEMBER 28, 2004 - TEMPE, AZ - Quincy Carter came back from a TKO to deliver the knockout blow against the Arizona Cardinals. Carter left with a head injury after the third play of the game, but returned to throw a 69-yard touchdown pass to Santana Moss and the New York Jets beat the Cardinals 13-3 on Sunday. Curtis Martin carried 24 times for 99 yards and Doug Brien kicked field goals of 28 and 46 yards for the Jets (8-3). Martin and Emmitt Smith brought 30,817 career yards rushing into the game - the most by two backs playing in the same contest in NFL history. But Smith wasn't around long, injuring a toe on his left foot late in the first quarter. He played in the next series, then left the game for good. Arizona (4-7) managed only a 20-yard field goal by Neil Rackers as the first half ended. Shaun King got his second straight start for the Cardinals, going 14-for-26 for 119 yards. He was booed roundly with each incompletion, along with chants of "Josh, Josh, Josh." Josh McCown, starter in the first nine games, came on in relief in the fourth quarter after Jonathan Vilma intercepted King's pass at the Jets 5-yard line. The Cardinals had driven from their own 21 to the New York 21 when King lobbed a pass right into Vilma's hands. McCown completed his first pass, but Anquan Boldin fumbled it, then Vilma recovered at the Jets 44 with 6:23 to play. McCown was intercepted twice - in the end zone by former Cardinal David Barrett with 1:50 to play and by Terrell Buckley as the game ended. Carter left the game after he was hit by Russell Davis as he threw, then two more Cardinals jumped on the pile. Brooks Bollinger got his first NFL action in relief of Carter. Bollinger had been the third-stringer before Chad Pennington went down with a strained right rotator cuff. Carter returned to direct the Jets' first scoring drive. Martin carried five times for 36 yards, including a 19-yarder, to set up Brien's 28-yarder with 3:28 in the half. Roughing-the-passer and offside penalties helped Arizona on its lone scoring drive, which stalled at the 6, and Rackers' field goal tied it at 3 at halftime. New York took the lead on its first possession of the second half. Carter threw 13 yards to Justin McCareins and 12 to Moss on the drive. LaMont Jordan ran 16 yards, then Brien's 46-yard field goal made it 6-3. The next time the Jets had the ball, Carter threw long to Moss down the right sideline. The ball went through the hands of defender Renaldo Hill. Moss grabbed it at the 20 and ran untouched to the end zone to put New York ahead 13-3. It was the longest reception in Moss' four-year NFL career.

GAME TWELVE: JETS 29 VS HOUSTON 7

DECEMBER 5, 2004 - EAST RUTHERFORD, NEW JERSEY - Chad Pennington, back after missing three games, directed three second-half touchdown drives and Curtis Martin added his seventh 100-yard game of the season to help the Jets (9-3) stay in the thick of the AFC playoff race. It was not all Pennington and Martin, though. The Jets had another solid defensive effort, shutting out the Texans (5-7) in the second half - the sixth time this season they've blanked an opponent over the final two quarters - and allowing 10 points or fewer for the third straight game. Martin had 134 yards on 23 carries, going over the 1,300 yard mark on the season. He needs 26 yards to become the fifth back to reach 13,000 yards in a career. In all, the Jets had 36 carries for 210 yards on the ground. Pennington finished 20-of-27 for 155 yards with two touchdowns and an interception. But Martin's 4-yard TD run in the third quarter gave the Jets the lead for good following a bizarre sequence on Houston's first drive of the half. Facing fourth-and-7 from their own 6, the Texans snapped the ball into the leg of the referee standing in the end zone, and the Jets appeared to recover for a safety. But the play was whistled dead before the snap because the officials were not ready. Try again. This time, Houston was called for holding, moving the ball back to the 3. On the third punt attempt, Chad Stanley got it off for 47 yards, but Santana Moss returned the ball 46, barely stepping out at the Texans 4. Martin plunged in from there, making it 13-7. The Texans were still in it, but their following drive ended in disaster in another strange sequence. After a big 37-yard pass from David Carr to Andre Johnson to the Jets 37, the Texans moved backward thanks to intentional grounding and a personal foul on left guard Chester Pitts. The Jets, meanwhile, kept cruising. Pennington threw a 5-yard touchdown pass to Martin, then a 2-yarder to Anthony Becht following an interception by Erik Coleman, putting the game out of reach. Doug Brien also kicked three field goals (41, 26, 25). Carr finished 12-of-25 for 157 yards with two interceptions, while Johnson had 125 yards on seven catches for the first 1,000 yard season of his career. The Jets held Domanick Davis to 52 yards on 17 carries. Houston led 7-6 at halftime but it could have been more. Carr threw incomplete in the end zone on fourth down on the first drive of the game, and Davis also had a 60-yard touchdown run called back because of a holding penalty. Though Pennington completed his first nine passes for 81 yards, New York failed to score touchdowns both times it got inside the 25 and had to settle for field goals to go up 6-0. Houston scored its lone touchdown after a Jet penalty. Davis scored on a 2-yard run on the next play to give the Texans the lead. The Jets lost defensive end John Abraham for the second half after he sprained his right knee in the second quarter.

GAME THIRTEEN: JETS 6 AT PITTSBURGH 17

DECEMBER 12, 2004 - PITTSBURGH - Jerome Bettis flipped a 10-yard touchdown pass to Jerame Tuman three plays after surpassing the 13,000-yard barrier early in the fourth quarter, fooling what had been a nearly impenetrable Jets defense and sending the Pittsburgh Steelers to a team record-tying 17-6 victory Sunday. Bettis, unused early this season except during goal-line situations, also ran for a late touchdown - his career-high 12th this season - after rookie quarterback Ben Roethlisberger's longest completion in four games, a 46-yarder to Lee Mays. The Steelers (12-1) overcame a spotty start to win a club record-tying 11th in a row. The 1975 Super Bowl champion Steelers won 11 straight during a 12-2 season. Roethlisberger kept his unprecedented rookie winning streak going, too, winning his 11th in a row in the NFL and 24th straight the last two seasons, counting his final 13 games at Miami of Ohio. Pittsburgh's victory, its 15th in 17 games against the Jets (9-4), also secured the AFC North championship that has been a foregone conclusion for weeks and kept the Steelers in the lead for home-field advantage throughout the AFC playoffs. New England also is 12-1 after beating Cincinnati 35-28 earlier Sunday, but lost earlier to the Steelers. On the day Bettis and Curtis Martin went over 13,000 yards rushing, Bettis will be remembered most for, of all things, his passing. Bettis' third career touchdown pass in six attempts came on Pittsburgh's only sustained drive of the day until that point, an 80-yard possession keyed by Roethlisberger completions of 26 yards to Hines Ward and 21 yards to Duce Staley. On third-and-3, Bettis rolled to his right after taking a pitch from Roethlisberger and casually tossed the ball to a wide-open Tuman, who also caught Bettis' last scoring pass in 2001. Bettis also had a TD throw in 1999. The Jets' defense had shut out three consecutive opponents in the second half and six this season until Bettis' throw, which broke a 3-all tie and helped keep New York from being 10-3 for the first time since 1986. Bettis' 147.9 passer rating for the day eclipsed that of celebrated Giants rookie Eli Manning, who had a low-as-can-go 0.0 rating in a 37-14 loss to Baltimore. Bettis also carried 10 times for 57 yards to push his career total to 13,037. Martin ran 24 times for 72 yards to move past Bettis into fifth place with 13,046 yards in the first game in NFL history in which two backs each surpassed 13,000 yards. The Jets were the league's second-least penalized team until being flagged 12 times for 84 yards - all in the first half, when the only scoring came on Jeff Reed's 34-yard field goal for Pittsburgh following Troy Polamalu's interception of a pass by Chad Pennington. New York threatened late in the half by driving from its 4 to the Steelers 30, but Pennington was intercepted by James Farrior. Pennington was 17-of-31 for 189 yards and three interceptions - only one fewer than he had all season.

GAME FOURTEEN: SEATTLE 14 VS JETS 37

DECEMBER 19, 2004 - EAST RUTHERFORD, NEW JERSEY - Chad Pennington shouldered the blame for a disappointing performance last week against Pittsburgh, vowing to play better down the stretch. He more than did that yesterday, throwing three touchdown passes in a 37-14 win over the Seattle Seahawks, turning the game into an offensive bonanza. The Jets racked up a season-high 482 yards and went over 200 yards on the ground for the fourth time this season. Curtis Martin chipped in 134 yards and two touchdowns, helping the Jets (10-4) keep their lead in the AFC wildcard standings heading into a crucial game against New England next week. "For the first time in a long time we set the tempo," said Pennington. "We kept it flowing." The Jets looked nothing like the team that struggled in a 17-6 loss to Pittsburgh last week. The Jets had their highest output since a 41-14 win over Miami on November 1, and second highest of the season. They never punted. "You could just tell after last week the offense was disappointed," Jets coach Herman Edwards said. "I had a feeling they'd have a breakout game and they did." The defense also shut out an opponent in the second half for the seventh time this season. Linebacker Eric Barton had a monster day, with 11 tackles, a sack, forced fumble, fumble recovery, and interception. The Seahawks (7-7) had another disappointing day in their bid to stay atop the NFC West, with three turnovers the Jets converted into 14 points. Shaun Alexander, who has a history of key fumbles, turned the ball over in the end zone late in the third quarter, effectively ending any chance to rally. He finished with 77 yards. Quarterback Matt Hasselbeck injured his right elbow later in the quarter, and Trent Dilfer came on. Coach Mike Holmgren said they would know more about the injury today. Seattle also was on the losing end of another disputed call by the officials. Martin scored on a 3-yard run in the second quarter. Holmgren challenged that the ball never broke the plane, but referee Scott Green determined the TD should stand. Green told a pool reporter there wasn't enough evidence to overturn the call. Pennington looked sharp after one of the worst games of his career against Pittsburgh, leading to criticism he cannot perform in big games. He completed several long pass plays and finished 18-of-24 for 253 yards. His rating was 148.1, after a 33.6 last week. Santana Moss had two touchdown receptions. Martin had two first-half scoring runs and established a single-season team record with 12 rushing TDs. He also set the team mark for career TDs rushing with 53, passing Emerson Boozer. The Seahawks took an early 7-3 lead when Jerry Rice made a beautiful one-handed grab in the corner of the end zone for a 12-yard TD. The Jets then reeled off three straight touchdowns, including Martin's controversial score.

GAME FIFTEEN: NEW ENGLAND 23 VS JETS 7

DECEMBER 26, 2004 - EAST RUTHERFORD, NEW JERSEY - Tom Brady was back to his old self. So were his New England Patriots. New England dominated division rival New York on Sunday, winning 23-7 to clinch a first-round bye in the playoffs. The Jets (10-5), meanwhile, must win their finale at St. Louis next week to be assured of making the AFC playoffs as a wild card. The Patriots (13-2), coming off a 29-28 loss to the Miami Dolphins on Monday night, looked completely different from the squad that had some critics questioning whether the Super Bowl champions had finally lost a step. Brady threw two touchdown passes and went 21-of-32 for 264 yards, making beautiful throws and good decisions after tying a career high with four picks against Miami. The Patriots defense, which surrendered an 11-point lead with 4 minutes remaining in the Miami game, harassed Chad Pennington all day and stopped NFL leading rusher Curtis Martin. There was some bad news for the Patriots. Pro Bowl defensive end Richard Seymour left the game with a leg injury in the third quarter. Pennington finished 22-of-36 for 252 yards, while Martin had season lows with 33 yards and 13 carries. Pennington is now 1-4 against the Patriots as a starter, with his lone win coming in 2002. The offense also failed to take advantage of a depleted New England secondary, which was without Ty Law (foot) for the eighth straight game and starting cornerback Randall Gay (arm). The Jets, desperate to prove they belong in the elite of the AFC, once again could not come through in a game against the upper echelon of the conference. They are 0-3 this season against New England and Pittsburgh. Brady, meanwhile, had the Patriots humming. He led them to three scores in the second quarter, including a beautiful 16-yard touchdown pass to Daniel Graham. He added another touchdown pass early in the fourth quarter, a 6-yarder to Deion Branch. One fan showed his disgust by throwing a plastic beer bottle on the field after the score. Adam Vinatieri connected on three field goals (28, 29, 26) for New England. The Jets went into Patriots territory on their first two possessions but wound up with no points after Tedy Bruschi intercepted Pennington on the first drive, and Martin lost 4 yards on third down on the second drive to push them out of field goal range. After those two drives, the Jets failed to get a first down for the remainder of the first half.

GAME SIXTEEN: JETS 29 VS RAMS 32

JANUARY 2, 2005 - ST. LOUIS - The St. Louis Rams won a finale that, in the end, they needed much more than the New York Jets. Marc Bulger threw for 450 yards and three touchdowns and Jeff Wilkins hit a 31-yard field goal with 3:03 left in overtime Sunday to give the Rams a 32-29 win over the New York Jets, clinching their fourth playoff berth in five seasons under coach Mike Martz. The Rams (8-8) won their last two games to qualify as the NFC wild card, and had a chance to win the West if the Seahawks lost to the Falcons later Sunday. They also finished 6-2 at home. Now they will play at Seattle in the first round Saturday afternoon. St. Louis won both regular-season meetings. The Rams' effort took on more meaning when the Vikings lost to the Redskins, because the Rams had to win to make it into the postseason. But the Jets (10-6) qualified well before overtime began, when Buffalo lost 29-24 to the Steelers. Despite the loss, New York made the playoffs for the third time in four seasons under coach Herman Edwards. The Jets play at San Diego next weekend but enter the playoffs on a bit of a downer. They have gone 5-6 in their final 11 games following a 5-0 start. They also lost wide receiver Wayne Chrebet (concussion) in the first half. Curtis Martin had 153 yards on 28 carries, winning the NFL rushing title with 1,697 yards by 1 yard over Shaun Alexander of the Seahawks while moving into fourth place on the NFL career rushing list. The Jets played to win in overtime, keeping Chad Pennington and Martin on the field. Doug Brien's miss on a 53-yard field goal attempt opened the door for the Rams' final drive. St. Louis got great field position at its 43, and Bulger needed only five plays to get the Rams in position for Wilkins' game-winner. Wilkins split the uprights on first down after Bulger's 22-yard swing pass to Steven Jackson. Bulger completed 29 of 39 passes. The Rams won with a revived offense, scoring more than 20 points for the first time in seven weeks. They had scoring drives of three and one play in the first half, including a 44-yard catch by Torry Holt near the end of the half right after a Jets punt. St. Louis appeared to have taken control early in the third quarter when Jackson broke a pair of tackles on a 20-yard run that made it 21-10. But the Jets quickly recaptured the momentum. Jerricho Cotchery returned the ensuing kickoff 94 yards to cut the gap to four. Less than a minute later, Jason Ferguson stripped Isaac Bruce after a reception and Donnie Abraham recovered to set up a 33-yard field goal by Brien. The Jets took a 26-21 lead when Jonathan Vilma intercepted a tipped pass and returned it 38 yards for a score. The ensuing 2-point conversion failed when Pennington threw incomplete. St. Louis retook the lead with 5:06 remaining in regulation, when two Jets defenders collided, allowing Torry Holt to break free on a 19-yard TD reception. Jackson's conversion run made it a 3-point lead, but the Jets tied it when Brien kicked a 27-yard field goal with 3 seconds left in regulation.

JETS HIRE BELICHICK/PARCELLS COMBO — The Jets hired longtime Bill Parcells assistant Bill Belichick as head coach, naming Bill Parcells as a consultant, and spurring an official complaint from the New England Patriots, who claimed to still hold Parcells under contract (Feb. 3).

JETS MEET WITH COMMISSIONER — Leon Hess and Patriots Owner Bob Kraft met with Commissioner Paul Tagliabue in New York City with regard to the Parcells issue. After hours of negotiations, Tagliabue ruled that Bill Parcells could take over the Jets football operations immediately. In return, the Jets compensated the Patriots with draft picks over the next three years: the Jets third and fourth round selections in 1997, their second-round selection in 1998 and their first-round selection in 1999 (Feb. 10).

The Jets just fell short and missed the playoffs after a tough 13-10 loss (Dec. 21).

JETS UNVEIL NEW LOGOS — The Jets look to go back to the future with their "new" logo. In actuality, the Jets returned to their original uniform and logo first worn at the club's inception in 1963 and worn by the team when Joe Namath "guaranteed" their 16-7 victory over the Baltimore Colts in Super Bowl III on January 12, 1969 (Feb. 3).

JETS SIGN CURTIS MARTIN — Curtis Martin officially became a New York Jet as the restricted free agent offer sheet was not matched by the Patriots. The Jets did have to give up first and third-round picks, but Bill Parcells stated that Martin was worth it. "It was a long process, but one we think was well thought out. We know the price was high, but we think we got good value in return. When I look at the draft and the 18th spot, I look to see if I can get a better player than Curtis Martin and I don't think I can. I think that this move gives us a stable of very good backs" (March 25).

JETS FINISH THE DRAFT WITH 12 NEW FACES — Bill Parcells, who has never been afraid to trade down for more draft picks, did just that and tried strengthening his team with 12 new rookies. For the second straight year the Jets had a lot of new faces on the team (Apr. 18-19).

JETS SIGN QB VINNY TESTAVERDE — Vinny Testaverde returned to Long Island where he grew up and fullfilled a lifetime dream of playing for the Jets. He spent time with Tampa Bay, Cleveland and Baltimore, thoughout his career and was named to the Pro Bowl in 1996 while with the Ravens as he threw for a career-high 4,177 yards and 33 TD. Mo Lewis was named a starter in the Pro Bowl. This was his first selection in his eight-year career. QB Vinny Testaverde made the team as a reserve and made his second appearance in the game. The team MVP set a club record for most TD thrown in a season with 29, and led the Jets to the AFC Championship game. WR Keyshawn Johnson made his first appearance in Hawaii. The third-year wideout led the team in receptions, yards and TD receiving (Dec. 16). Curtis Martin replaced an injured Terrell Davis to make his third Pro Bowl appearance (Feb. 5).

JETS WIN PLAYOFF GAME — The Jets won their first playoff game since 1986 when they defeated the Jacksonville Jaguars at the Meadowlands, 34-24. In a wild game, the Jets jumped to a 17-0 second quarter lead only to see the Jaguars get back into it before surging to another 17-point bulge, 31-14. The Jaguars closed to 31-24 before John Hall's 30-yard FG closed the door sending the Jets to their first conference championship game in 16 years. Keyshawn Johnson and Curtis Martin sparked the Jets' offense. Martin was 36-124-2 TD rushing and 6-58 receivng. Johnson finished the day with 9-121 receiving, added a 10-yard end around TD, had a FR and ended the game with an INT on a last second Hail Mary (Jan. 10).

JETS FALL SHORT IN AFC CHAMPIONSHIP GAME — The Jets took a 10-0 third quarter lead, but were unable to play the mistake-free football they had played all season and saw the Denver Broncos come back for a 23-10 victory en route to defending their Super Bowl championship. After taking their 10-0 lead via a FG and a blocked punt resulting in a TD, the Jets were vicitimized by a couple of big plays by John Elway and the running of Terrell Davis' 32-167-1TD. The Jets lost four fumbles and had two passed deflected into INT (Jan. 17).

JETS SECURE VINNY TESTAVERDE — After a Pro Bowl year, the Jets made sure to lock up their star QB for probably the rest of his career. Testaverde signed a three-year deal, with a four-year option. He led the Jets to the AFC Championship game where the team fell just short of fulfilling their Super Bowl dreams. This 1986 Heisman trophy winner returned to his hometown area of Elmont, where he was 12-1 in the regular-season as a starter. His 29 TD passed broke a club record shared by his boyhood idol Joe Namath (Mar. 1).

JETS HOPE TO IMPROVE THEIR OFFENSIVE LINE — With four of the team's eight picks in the 1999 draft, the Jets selected offensive linemen. The team continues to try to find the right fit at the G postion for the 1999 season. The team also selected two LB, one DT and one CB rounding out their eight selections.

OWNER LEON HESS REMEMBERED — Leon Hess, the owner of the New York Jets and the oil legend, died at age 85. The cause of death was attributed to complications from a blood disease. Hess was one of a group of five who originally bought the New York franchise out of bankruptcy in 1963 and soon changed the name from Titans to Jets and hired Weeb Ewbank as the head coach and general manager. He kept a low profile and stayed behind the scenes while making every effort to give the Jets and their fans first class facilities. After the Jets captured the Super Bowl III championship (Jan. 12, 1969), Hess' dream was a return to the Super Bowl. His hiring of Bill Parcells almost made that dream come true in 1998 as the Jets rang up a club record 12 wins, including their first AFC East championship, but ultimately lost to the eventual Super Bowl champion Denver Broncos in the AFC Championship game. Hess, who started building Hess Oil from his father's one truck heating oil delivery business during the depression and built it into a multi-billion dollar company, became the sole owner of the Jets in 1984 (May 7).

JETS FOR SALE — The Estate of Leon Hess announced that the Jets would be sold as per the wishes of Leon Hess' will. The firm of Goldman, Sachs & Co. was retained to manage the proceedings. The estate announced that Bill Parcells would continue to have complete authority over football operations and that president Steve Gutman would continue in charge of business operations and assist the Estate and Goldman, Sachs in the sale process. He became one of only four players to reach that mark in his first five seasons in the NFL. The only other players to accomplish that feat are Barry Sanders, Eric Dickerson and Tony Dorsett (Nov. 28).

LUCAS MAKES FIRST START — With the offense struggling under Rick Mirer at QB (replaced Testaverde after being acquired in a trade during the preseason from Green Bay), Ray Lucas received the starting nod from Bill Parcells against Indianapolis. Lucas' end zone INT turned into game losing play and his injury (sprained ankle) sent him to the sidelines for two games (Oct. 17).

I've enjoyed it very much. I'm grateful to the players who hung in there this year. Our season was really a credit to them. They didn't quit. But we're better off now than when we started (1997 took over a 1-15 team, worst in the NFL). I'm proud of that." Parcells retires with 138 regular-season victories (13th most ever) and 149 overall wins (12th most). The NFL finance committee unanimously agreed to recommend to the league the approval of the sale to Johnson at its meeting on Jan. 18. The executors of the Hess Estate said: "The late Leon Hess was the proud owner of the Jets since 1963. He had a special love for the team and its many loyal fans. The Hess family will remain strong supporters of the Jets and wishes Mr. Johnson, Bill Parcells, the entire Jets organization and players every success in the future and thanks the many loyal Jets fans" (Jan. 11).

Bissell ruled that the Jets' contract with Bill Belichick was valid, Bill Parcells and New England's Robert Kraft ended "the Border War" and brokered compensation for Belichick to become head coach of the Patriots. The Jets received New England's first-round pick (no. 16) in the 2000 draft plus its No. four and No. seven choices in 2001. The Jets sent the Patriots a fifth round pick in 2001 and a seventh rounder in 2002 (Jan. 27).

With their own 18th pick, they selected Marshall QB Chad Pennington and with the 27th choice, also from the Johnson to Tampa Bay deal, picked TE Anthony Becht from West Virginia (April 15).

PARCELLS STAYS ON — Bill Parcells committed to staying on as Director of Football Operations through the 2000 season saying, "I indicated some time ago I would not abandon this franchise. At today's owner's meeting in Florida, Commissioner Tagliabue indicated the proposal to host a Super Bowl in New York "was well received by NFL owners."

"New York City and the Super Bowl are a natural fit — the world's most popular sporting event belongs in the 'World's Second Home'," said Mayor Bloomberg. "When the New York Sports and Convention Center is complete, New York will finally have a world-class facility for the country's top sports events along with the economic activity and jobs that come with them. This facility, which will have a retractable roof, will be a home for the New York Jets, a central venue for the 2012 Olympic Games if we are fortunate enough to be selected, and an unforgettable location with unparalleled energy and spirit for an incredible Super Bowl, which alone would generate hundreds of millions of dollars in economic activity."

"This demonstrates the extent to which Convention Corridor will give New York City the opportunity to vie for hundreds of exciting events like the Super Bowl, that in turn will create millions of dollars in economic activity," said Governor Pataki. "I have no doubt New York City would make a spectacular host for the Super Bowl given that we have so much to offer in terms of hotels, entertainment, restaurants, and with the construction of the Sports and Convention Center - a first-class sports venue. The Sports and Convention Center is a smart public-private investment in New York's future. I'm pleased that the NFL — and its 32 owners — shares our enthusiasm for this project." (May 26).

JETS EARN POSTSEASON BERTH; HEAD TO SD — The Jets secured a playoff berth in the AFC Playoffs with a 10-6 record. It marked the Club's third playoff appearance in four years under Head Coach Herman Edwards, the first time the Club has accomplished the feat in its 45-year history. The Jets needed either a win at STL on the final week of the season or a loss by BUF against Pittsburgh, which occurred, or a loss by DEN against the Colts (Jan. 2).

MARTIN WINS RUSHING CROWN — RB Curtis Martin edged Seattle's Shaun Alexander by a single yard to win to earn the NFL's 2004 rushing title. Martin, with 1,697 yards, became just the second player in Jets' history to capture the rushing title, joining freeman McNeil (1984) (Jan. 2).

VILMA NAMED DEFENSIVE ROOKIE OF THE YEAR — Rookie LB Jonathan Vilma, the Club's first-round draft choice in 2004, captured the NFL's Defensive Rookie of the Year. It marks the first time since DE High Douglas (1996) that a Jet captured the award (Jan. 7).

JETS WIN FIRST ROAD PLAYOFF GAME SINCE 1983 — Edwards guided the Jets to their first playoff road win since the 1982 season when they upset the AFC West Champion Chargers at Qualcomm Stadium in San Diego. K Doug Brien connected on a 28-yard FG in overtime which sent to the Jets to the divisional round of the playoffs. Chad Pennington threw for 279 yards and two TD in the Jets' victory in front of an ABC National telecast on Saturday evening (Jan. 8).

JETS DROP HEARTBREAKER — The Jets dropped an AFC Divisional Playoff game at Heinz Field in Pittsburgh, 20-17, to the Pittsburgh Steelers. The Jets missed two field goals, a 47-yarder with 1:58 remaining that hit the goal post, but the Jets had another chance after CB David Barrett intercepted a Ben Roethlisberger pass right back when his off-line and returned the ball into Pittsburgh territory. The Jets then drove from the Steelers 37 to the 25, giving K Doug Brien a 43-yarder to try to win it on the final play of regulation. But the kick sailed to the left, and the Steelers ended the game nearly 12 minutes into overtime with a 33-yard Jeff Reed FG (Jan. 15).

JETS BECOME FIRST TEAM IN NFL HISTORY TO PLAY THREE OVERTIME GAMES IN A ROW — The Jets became the first NFL team to play three consecutive overtime games, including their regular-season ending game in St. Louis.

HACKETT RESIGNS AS OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR — The Jets announced the resignation of offensive coordinator Paul Hackett. Hackett joined the Jets on January 24, 2001 after having served as the head coach for the University of Southern California from 1998-2000. A veteran of 35 years of coaching, with 16 years of experience on the NFL level, Hackett compiled a 91-53 record as an offensive coordinator, along with seven playoff appearances and four divisions in his nine seasons overseeing the offensive play-calling and game-planning (Jan. 19).

HEIMERDINGER NAMED OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR — The Jets announced the appointment of Mike Heimerdinger as the Club's offensive coordinator. Heimerdinger, 52, joined the Jets after having served the past five seasons (2000-2004) as the offensive coordinator of the AFC South's Tennessee Titans, where he annually directed one of the NFL's most potent offensive attacks (Jan. 19).

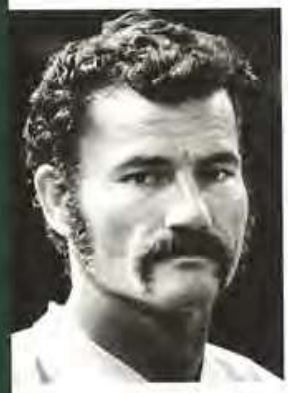
ACQUIRE TE JOLLEY FROM OAKLAND RAIDERS BEFORE DRAFT — The Jets announced the acquisition of TE Doug Jolley from the Oakland Raiders in exchange for the Jets' first-round draft choice (26th overall). Additionally, the Raiders sent the Jets the second-round selection (47th overall) they received from the Houston Texans, and two more selections from the sixth round (182nd from Arizona and 185th from Dallas). Along with the first-round pick, the Jets sent the Raiders one of their seventh round selections (230th overall from Minnesota). Jolley was originally drafted by the Raiders in the second-round of the 2002 Draft out of Brigham Young University with the 23rd pick in the round (55th overall). The 6'4", 250-pound native of Sandy, UT has played in 47 regular-season games, making 26 starts, and has recorded 90 receptions for 972 yards for a 10.8 average and five touchdowns. Exactly half of his receptions (45) have gone for first downs (April 21).

JETS TAB TWO PLAYERS IN SECOND ROUND OF '05 DRAFT AFTER TRADING DOWN — In the second-round, with the 47th overall selection and the 15th pick in the second-round, the Jets selected Ohio State place-kicker Mike Nugent, a 5-10, 182 pound, native of Centerville, OH. Nugent was an All-American two of the last three seasons at Ohio State, during which time he converted an impressive 87.8 percent (65-of-74) of his field goal attempts. In 2004, he became the first kicker to be named Ohio State team MVP and he won the Lou Groza Award after converting 20-of-23 field goals and recording 34 touchbacks on 55 kickoffs during the regular-season. He was voted, by his collegiate teammates, as the team's Most Valuable Player this past season and was a four-time Ohio State Scholar Athlete honors four times. Then 10 selections later, the Jets tabbed Clemson CB Justin Miller with the 57th selection overall. Miller, 5-10, 200, hails from Owensboro, KY and was a big-play specialist for the Tigers, joining Bobby Gage (1945-48) as the only Clemson players to ever score a touchdown on a kickoff return and a punt return. The junior proved to be a dangerous threat as a return artist, holding the school's career record with a kickoff return average of 30.7 yards.

HALL OF FAMERS

WEEB EWBANK • HEAD COACH (1963-73) • GENERAL MANAGER (1963-74) Weeb Ewbank is the only head coach in professional football history to build two teams from their inception into world champions and was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame on July 29, 1978, the 11th coach to be enshrined in Canton. Upon his retirement from coaching in 1973, Ewbank's 130 wins ranked him fifth on the all-time coaching wins list only behind other greats George Halas, Curly Lambeau, Steve Owen and Paul Brown. He is the only coach ever to win World Championships in both the NFL (Baltimore Colts 1958-59) and AFL (New York Jets 1968). Ewbank was on the sidelines for two of the most important games in NFL history, the sudden death victory in the 1958 championship and Super Bowl III, won by the Jets. Ewbank was a college QB at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, and was a teammate of fellow coaching legend Paul Brown. Brown gave him his first professional football job as an assistant coach of the Cleveland Browns from 1949-53. His first head coaching job came with the Colts, where he won championships in the fifth and sixth of his nine seasons in Baltimore. Ewbank joined the Jets in 1963 as head coach and general manager. The New Yorkers shocked the world by defeating Ewbank's former team, the Colts, 16-7 (the first victory for the AFL in the Super Bowl). Ewbank coached the Jets for 11 seasons through 1973 and stayed on as general manager for the 1974 season. He developed two of the greatest quarterbacks in league history, Joe Namath and Johnny Unitas, as well as other greats Don Maynard and Raymond Berry. NFL Hall of Fame coaches Bud Grant, Chuck Noll, Don Shula, and Chuck Knox came out of Weeb's influence.

JOE NAMATH • QUARTERBACK (1965-76) Joe Namath, "superstar," is an apt description for this illustrious Jets QB. He was a player who transcended the playing field to become a household name and put a whole league on the map, the AFL. Namath enjoyed a sparkling career and led the Jets to what experts call one of the greatest upsets in sports history when he guided the team to a 16-7 win over the Baltimore Colts, garnering MVP honors at the Orange Bowl in Miami in Super Bowl III January 12, 1969. Despite enduring five knee operations, "Broadway Joe" was one of the game's great quarterbacks and one of its most prolific passers. In 1967, Namath became the first player to throw for more than 4,000 yards, accomplishing the feat in a 14-game season. He still holds most of the Jets' passing records, including single-game marks set when he lit up the Colts for 496 yards and six touchdowns September 24, 1972. For his career, he completed 1,886 of 3,762 passed for 27,663 yards and 173 touchdowns. The $400,000 contract signed by Namath in 1965 gave the Jets and the AFL some much needed credibility and started the team down the road to a Super Bowl championship. His legendary coach from the University of Alabama Paul "Bear" Bryant said, "Joe Namath is the greatest athlete I have ever coached." Namath ended his storied career after spending one season with the Los Angeles Rams in 1977. He was inducted into the Hall of Fame August 3, 1985.



DON MAYNARD • WIDE RECEIVER (1960-72) When Don Maynard called it a career following the 1972 season, #13 was the all-time leading receiver in NFL history. Over his 13-year run, Maynard caught 633 passed for 11,834 yards (18.7 avg.) and scored 88 touchdowns. Maynard was a four-time AFL All-Star and is a member of the All-Time AFL team, chosen by the Pro Football Hall of Fame. He went over the 100-yard mark in receiving yardage in 50 games (also a record at his retirement). The native of El Paso, TX joined the AFL in 1960 was the first player to sign a contract in Titans/Jets franchise history. Maynard's most memorable game was the 1968 AFL Championship where he caught six balls for 118 yards and a pair of touchdowns (including the game-winner) to send the Jets past the Raiders and into Super Bowl III. The Texas Western (now known as the University of Texas at El Paso) alumnus was enshrined at Canton August 8, 1987.

JOHN RIGGINS • RUNNING BACK (1971-1975) John Riggins played the first five years of his Hall of Fame career with the Jets after being New York's first-round pick out of the University of Kansas in 1971. He became the first 1,000-yard rusher in Jets history when he gained 1,005 in 1975. "Riggo" totaled 3,880 yards rushing over his five-year Jet career, leading the team in four of those campaigns. Riggins signed as a free agent with Washington in 1976 and was the MVP of Super Bowl XVII, leading the Redskins to victory with 166 yards rushing, including a 43-yard game-winning touchdown run. He played nine seasons for the Redskins (1976-79, 1981-85). Over his career, Riggins ran for 11,352 yards and scored 104 touchdowns. The native of Seneca, KS was enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame August 1, 1992.

* Hall of Fame safety Ronnie Lott played the final two years of his career (1993-94) with the New York Jets.

NEW YORK JETS DRAFT HISTORY

1960 AFL

11/22/59 (FIRST SELECTIONS) AND 12/2/59 (SECOND SELECTIONS)

When the AFL Draft was held, no front offices or coaching staffs were yet complete. No more than half of the eight teams even had any scouts or personnel staff. In order to be equitable to all eight teams, all information on college players was pooled. The four people responsible for the information used in the draft were: Don Rossi, General Manager of the Dallas Texans; Dean Griffing, General Manager of the Denver Broncos; John Breen, Director of Player Personnel for the Houston Oilers; and Frank Leahy, General Manager of the Los Angeles Chargers.

To begin the Draft, each team received one territorial, or bonus, pick. The purpose of the selection was to gain the rights to a player who not only would be one of the main building blocks of the team, but who, being a star of regional or national scope, would help sell tickets and assure the financial success of the franchise. The territorial picks were not made in any order. They were agreed upon unanimously by the teams. The territorial picks were as follows: Boston: Gerhard Schwedes, HB, Syracuse; Buffalo, Richie Lucas, QB, Penn State; Dallas Texans: Don Meredith, QB, SMU; Denver, Roger LeClerc, C, Trinity (CT); Houston: Billy Cannon, HB, LSU; Los Angeles Chargers: Monty Stickles, E, Notre Dame; Minneapolis: Dale Hackbart, QB, Wisconsin; and New York Titans: George Izo, QB, Notre Dame.

After the territorial picks, a consensus was reached by Rossi, Griffing, Breen and Leahy as to who were the best eight players in the country at each offensive position. The names of each position were put into a box and drawn for by each club. If a club already had a player at a certain position due to its territorial pick, it was left out of the first selection for that position. This selection process continued through 33 selections per team, or three full offensive platoons.

Shortly after the Draft was completed, the teams decided there was a need for a wider base from which to attempt to sign players. Two weeks after the first selections, a second Draft was held. The second draft consisted of 20 rounds and was conducted under the same guidelines. Occasionally, the lists of players at each position didn't work out to be evenly divisible by eight. Therefore, although each team received 20 picks, some received a player more at one position than did others.

Since there was no real order of priority for the players selected, they were listed in alphabetical order under the headings "first selections" and "second selections.' Since the players selected simply were rated as the top collegians in the country, some of them were juniors and were selected as future picks. One, Doug Pat Brown of Fresno State, was a sophomore, but his selection by the Dallas Texans was upheld despite not following traditional guidelines of future picks.

Shortly after the draft, Minneapolis was offered a franchise in the NFL, and on January 27, 1960, and withdrew from the AFL. Three days later, Oakland was admitted as the eighth AFL team, and the new club inherited Minnneapolis' draft list. In the interim period, however, AFL clubs had signed a number of players drafted by Minneapolis. In order to stock the Oakland franchise with players, the AFL held an allocation draft. The other seven teams froze 11 players, after which Oakland chose a varying number of players from each unfrozen list, totaling 24 players. — from Total Football II

WEEB EWBANK HALL

Weeb Ewbank Hall, named in honor of the Professional Football Hall of Fame head coach, is the New York Jets' year-round training facility, ticket office and office complex. It has served as the training complex for the players and coaches since 1974 and the overall franchise headquarters since June 10, 1990.

Located on an 8 1/2 acre site on the North Campus of Hofstra University in Hempstead, NY (approximately 25 miles east of Manhattan), the complex provides players, coaches and staff with the necessary components for daily practice, weekly game preparations, and general overall operations in one setting.

HISTORY

The complex has undergone several renovations throughout its 28-year existence, most recently the expansion of the training/treatment areas used by the medical training staff and the installation of FieldTurf, a state-of-the-art synthetic grass field used both indoors and outdoors.

In 1997, the complex's football operations were completely overhauled when a polymer teflon air support structure was installed over a 60-yard field. It provides the team with a year-round all-weather, fully lighted facility in which to practice. In addition, the team's former AstroTurf surface field was installed upon the team's move to the Meadowlands in 1984. The fields, which feature state-of-the-art drainage and watering facility capabilities, allow the team to work outside in virtually any weather conditions.

The two-story, 54,000 square-foot Weeb Ewbank Hall houses all offices and facilities. The upstairs of the complex are offices for coaches, accounting, video operations, business operations, pro scouting, college scouting and marketing/promotions/community relations. The upstairs also houses an 85-seat auditorium, offensive and defensive meeting rooms, and classrooms used for positional group meetings.

The ground floor contains a spacious dressing room area with room for 70 permanent lockers, the public relations offices, a media workroom, a reception area, ticket operations, equipment operations, a modern weight-training room, a newly designed training room, mail operations and a new players lounge. The locker room also houses a hydrotherapy pool and a sauna.

1968 AFL CHAMPIONSHIP

DEC. 29, 1968 — SHEA STADIUM, NEW YORK 27, OAKLAND 23

The New York Jets climaxed their finest season in history (11-3) by scoring a 27-23 victory over Oakland. A title game record crowd of 62,627 sat in the chilly, windy proceedings at Shea Stadium and saw Joe Namath toss three touchdown passed. Despite the fact that Namath attempted a record 49 passed, the Jets still mixed their attack. Matt Snell and Emerson Boozer gained 71 and 51 yards, respectively, behind fine blocking from the front line. The Raiders carried the game down to the final minutes before Daryle Lamonica's lateral pass for Charlie Smith rolled free and was recovered by the Jets' Ralph Baker. The victory gave head coach Weeb Ewbank the honor of being the only coach to win titles in both the NFL and AFL.

SUPER BOWL III

JAN. 12, 1969 — MIAMI ORANGE BOWL, NEW YORK 16, BALTIMORE 7

Defying the oddsmakers (17 1/2 point underdogs) and the strength of traditions, the Jets became the first AFL team to win the Super Bowl by rumbling over the Baltimore Colts to record a 16-7 triumph. As it was in the AFL championship contest, Joe Namath led the way. The all-pro QB directed the Jets' attack flawlessly, driving the team to a second quarter touchdown by Matt Snell (four yards) and three second-half field goals by Jim Turner. Snell had an outstanding game, gaining 121 yards on 30 carries. The defense shared at least as much glory as the offensive unit, intercepting the Colts four times. Randy Beverly picked off two; Jim Hudson and Johnny Sample, one each. The defensive unit harassed Colts' quarterbacks Earl Morrall and Johnny Unitas, allowing them to complete only 17 of 41 passed. The victory was the third in World Championship competition in as many tries for Weeb Ewbank and made him the only man ever to coach world champions in both the AFL and NFL.

1969 AFL PLAYOFF

Dec. 20, 1969 – SHEA STADIUM, KANSAS CITY 13, NEW YORK 6

The game was a classic battle of defenses, played in cold and windy conditions spectated by a sellout 62,977 fans. Through the first three quarters, neither team could penetrate for a touchdown and the score stood at 6-3 for the Chiefs. Jim Turner had put New York out in front, 3-0, with a 28-yard field goal the first time the Jets had the ball, but the Chiefs' Jan Stenerud retaliated with a 23-yarder on the next series. Not until the fourth quarter did the brokes occur. With first and goal on the one-yard line, three cracks, including a Joe Namath bootleg, failed to bring a touchdown. Turner then kicked a 7-yard field goal to tie it, 6-6. Two plays later Kansas City was in the end zone. Len Dawson hit Otis Taylor for a 61-yard pass play to take the Chiefs to the Jets 19. Then Dawson fired the final 19 yards to Gloster Richardson for the only TD of the game. Namath threw 20 passed over the next two Jets' series, but a fourth-down incompletion and a Jim Marsalis INT thwarted the Jets and put Kansas City on the road to the world championship.

1981 AFC WILD CARD PLAYOFF

DEC. 27, 1981 — SHEA STADIUM, BUFFALO 31, NEW YORK 27

In one of the most exciting playoff games ever played, the Buffalo Bills hung on to defeat the Jets, 31-27 as Bill Simpson made an INT on the two-yard line with time running out. The Bills scored on the opening kickoff when they recovered a Bruce Harper fumble and quickly built that to a 24-0 second quarter lead. The Jets rallied in the third quarter to make it 24-13. The game appeared over as Joe Cribbs busted a 45-yard TD to give Buffalo a 31-13 lead with 10:16 left. The Jets refused to die, however, and with Richard Todd at the controls, New York scored two quick TD and were now down 31-27 with 3:44 to go. A swarming defense forced the Bills to go three and out and with 2:36 left and the goal line 80-yards away, Todd started the Jets on their march. They drove to the Bills 11-yard line with 14 seconds on the clock, but Simpson made his game-saving INT and the Jets' season ended.

1982 AFC PLAYOFF

JAN. 9, 1983 — CINCINNATI RIVERFRONT STADIUM, NEW YORK 44, CINCINNATI 17

The Jets mixed solid and hard hitting football to beat the Bengals at Cincinnati in round one of the NFL Super Bowl Tournament. The game was highlighted by Freeman McNeil's 202 yards rushing, the third highest in playoff history, a TD pass from McNeil and a 98-yard INT for a TD by Darrol Ray to secure the win. The Bengals jumped to leads of 14-3 and 14-10 and were threatening to score again, when the Jets' defense might have made the play of the day. Nickel back Johnny Lynn made an INT at the Jets' one-yard line and with McNeil leading the way behind the offensive line, the Jets surged to a 17-14 lead which they never surrendered. McNeil was the "cannon" being shot by Walt Michaels 22 times for 202 yards and one TD.

1982 AFC PLAYOFF

JAN. 15, 1983 – LOS ANGELES MEMORIAL COLISEUM

NEW YORK 17, L.A. RAIDERS 14

The Jets sprung upset number two in the second-round of the Super Bowl Tournament, beating the Raiders to enter the AFC championship game. Richard Todd's 45-yard pass to Wesley Walker set up the winning one-yard TD run by Scott Dierking, but it took a pair of Lance Mehl INT in the last three minutes to wrap it up for the Jets. New York jumped to a 10-0 lead on a 20-yard TD pass from Todd to Walker and a Pat Leahy FG, but the Raiders came back in the second half to take a 14-10 lead. The Jets came back to take the lead at the 3:45 mark following the Todd to Walker bomb, but the Raiders still had plenty of time. It looked as if the Jets had put the Raiders away when Mehl INT Jim Plunkett at the Raiders' 27-yard line with only 2:49 left, but the Raiders got one more chance when they recovered a Freeman McNeil fumble at their own 33 with 2:26 to go. Then Mehl made his clinching INT, and this time, the Jets ran out the clock.

1982 AFC CHAMPIONSHIP

JAN. 23, 1983 – MIAMI ORANGE BOWL, MIAMI 14, NEW YORK 0

On a muddy field at Miami's Orange Bowl, the Jets and Dolphins waged a defensive battle which ended with Miami on top 14-0 to earn a trip to the Super Bowl. A.J. Duhe was the hero of the game, which saw a total of 12 turnovers, with three INT, returning the final for 35 yards for a touchdown early in the fourth quarter. Woody Bennett ran seven yards for the first Miami touchdown on the Dolphins' first possession of the third quarter, capping a 48-yard, seven-play drive following Duhe's second INT. The poor field conditions severely hurt the Jets' rushing attack as Freeman McNeil, who had rushed for 303 yards in the previous two playoff wins, was limited to only 46 yards on 17 carries due to the footing. It was the first time in NFL playoff history that two teams were deadlocked at 0-0 at halftime. The Jets' passing game was also hindered as Richard Todd was intercepted a record-tying five times by Miami. The New York defense held Miami to only 198 net yards, intercepted David Woodley three times and forced three fumbles.

1985 AFC WILD CARD PLAYOFF

DEC. 28, 1985 – MEADOWLANDS, NEW ENGLAND 26, NEW YORK 14

New England came out on top 26-14 in a game that saw the Jets self-destruct. The Jets committed four costly turnovers which led to 17 Patriots' points. New England, which went on to win the AFC championship, played an almost flawless game with no turnovers and only one penalty. The Jets were ahead 7-6, and driving late in the second quarter, when Ken O'Brien was intercepted on the seven-yard line. New England came back with a TD pass from Tony Eason to Stanley Morgan on a blitz six plays later. O'Brien suffered a concussion on the final play of the half on an Andre Tippett sack and would only play the first series of the second half. Before Pat Ryan could relieve him though, New England added a FG and then scored a TD when the ensuing kickoff was fumbled by Johnny Hector and returned 15 yards by Johnny Rembert. With the Jets trailing 23-7, Ryan came in and directed a TD drive.

1986 AFC WILD CARD PLAYOFF

Dec. 28, 1986 – MEADOWLANDS, NEW YORK 35, KANSAS CITY 15

Joe Walton started Pat Ryan to give the team an emotional lift and it got just that from Ryan in addition to a key running play and a three-TD passing performance. The club also received Freeman McNeil's 135-yard rushing performance to spark the Jets' first home playoff win since 1968. Trailing 6-0, Ryan ran a QB draw for 24 yards from the Chief's 33-yard-line on a fourth-and-six play to set up the Jets' go ahead TD. On the first down of the ensuing series, the Jets defense forced a KC fumble and Ryan concluded a 12-play, 47-yard drive with a one-yard pass to McNeil. Just prior to the half, Ryan hit Al Toon with a TD pass for a 21-6 halftime edge. The Jets nailed the victory on the first play of the second half when Kevin McArthur swiped a Todd Blackledge pass and dashed 21 yards for a 28-6 margin. The Jets' defense allowed a season-low 241 yards total offense and had two sacks, two INT and a FR.

1986 AFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF

Jan. 3, 1987 – CLEVELAND STADIUM, CLEVELAND 23, NEW YORK 20 (2 OTs)

In the third-longest game in NFL history (77:02), Cleveland staged an incredible comeback to send the game into OT before Mark Moseley's 27-yard FG advanced the Browns to the AFC Championship game. With Pat Ryan at QB, the Jets jumped on top 7-0 following a flea-flicker 42-yard TD pass from Ryan to Wesley Walker. Ryan was forced to leave the game in the second quarter with a groin injury and was replaced by Ken O'Brien. Meanwhile, the Jets' defense was outstanding holding the Browns to just ten points and 302 total yards until late in the fourth quarter. Immediately after a Jerry Holmes INT, the Jets took a 20-10 lead on Freeman McNeil's 25-yard TD with 4:14 remaining in regulation. Bernie Kosar led the Browns 68 yards to set up Kevin Mack's one-yard run to make the score 20-17 with 1:57 left. Cleveland's defense forced the Jets to punt with :51 left before Kosar's 37-yard pass to Webster Slaughter to the five-yard line set up the tying 22-yard FG. The Jets got a second life when Moseley missed a 23-yard FG 6:06 into OT, but he redeemed himself by kicking the winning 27-yard FG on a first-and-goal play from the Jets' nine-yard line.

1991 AFC WILD CARD PLAYOFF

Dec. 29, 1991 – HOUSTON ASTRODOME, HOUSTON 17, NEW YORK 10

The Jets returned to the playoffs for the first time since 1986 and came close to registering an upset win at Houston. Trailing 17-10 with only :20 left at the Houston 47-yard line, the Jets were unsuccessful in their attempts to tie the game on two Hail Mary passed, the last of which was intercepted to end the game. The game started with Houston taking the opening drive 80 yards in 16 plays for a 7-0 lead. After Erik McMillan's INT halted the Oilers' next drive, the Jets tied the game on Al Toon's first TD of the season, a ten-yarder from Ken O'Brien. Warren Moon tossed his second TD pass of the game to Ernest Givens to give the Oilers a 14-10 half-time lead. Three key plays would doom the Jets in the second half. After taking the opening drive of the third quarter down to the Houston seven-yard line in 12 plays, O'Brien's pass intended for Mark Boyer was picked off by Bubba McDowell at the three-yard line. Houston then drove 62 yards in 14 plays for a 53-yard FG to go ahead 17-10. On the Jets' next drive, attempting to tie the game from the Houston three-yard line, Brad Baxter was stopped on third-and-one for no gain, and then Freeman McNeil was halted on fourth-and-one. The Jets got another shot when Lonnie Young's hit forced Moon to fumble at the Houston 34-yard line with 4:59 left, but the Oilers' defense stopped the Jets on four downs. The Jets' defense played extremely well holding the high-powered Houston offense to just 17 points while registering four sacks (two by Mo Lewis), two FF and an INT. Toon tied for the second most catches by a Jets' WR in a playoff game with 8-96-1 TD.

1999 AFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF

Jan. 10, 1999 – MEADOWLANDS, NEW YORK 34, JACKSONVILLE 24

It was playoff football at its wildest. It was a game in which the Jets dominated early, let Jacksonville get back in it, and finally put their foot down to cage the Jaguars 34-24 earning a trip to the AFC Championship game in Denver. The Jets jumped off to a 17-0 second quarter lead only to see the Jaguars score on the last play of the half. Then they surged to another 17-point lead, 31-14, only to have Jacksonville close to 31-24 with 6:38 remaining. New York got ready to close the cage door again, driving to the Jaguars' 14-yard line, but Vinny Testaverde was intercepted in the end zone and the Jets had to call upon their defense to hold the Jaguars and to set up the offense for the final knockout again. The Green and White defense held the Jaguars on four straight downs and turned it over to the offense for the final shot-a John Hall 30-yard field goal that sent the Jets to their first conference championship game in 16 years. The Jets came out scoring on their opening drive, a seven-play, 70-yard march capped by Testaverde's 21-yard TD pass to Keyshawn Johnson. In the second quarter, the Jets held the ball for 14:09 and built their lead to 17-0 on Hall's 52-yard FG, a Jets' postseason record for longest FG; and a ten-yard end around run for a TD by Johnson. With six seconds left in the half, Mark Brunell hit Jimmy Smith in stride with a 52-yard TD bomb cutting the lead to 17-7. Early in the third quarter the teams traded TD with Curtis Martin turning a Corwin Brown INT into a TD and Brunell taking advantage of an 88-yard kickoff return and then completing a three-yard TD pass to Keenan McCardell. But the Jets answered that right back with another 70-yard drive culminated by Martin's 2nd TD of the game, a one-yarder on a pitchout for a 31-14 lead. Jacksonville fought right back with another Brunell to Smith TD pass of 15 yards trimming the margin to 31-21. The Jaguars then took advantage of a Wayne Chrebet fumble at the Jets' 41-yard line. New York's defense stiffened and Jacksonville had to settle for a 37-yard FG, but the Jags had cut the lead 31-24. That's when it appeared the Jets were going to tame the Jaguars for the final time, but their four minute drive from their own 34 ended with Testaverde's INT in the end zone, giving the Jaguars one more life, but this time from their own one-yard line. The Jets' defense pressured Brunell into a scramble for seven yards and three incompletions, giving the Jets the ball at the JAX eight. Four plays later Hall made the 30-yard FG. Keyshawn Johnson wiped out the Jags' final chance with an INT on Brunell's Hail Mary. Johnson produced a rare football feat scoring TD on a reception and a run, recovered a fumble and made an INT. The INT was on Jacksonville's final Hail Mary with 20 seconds remaining. The FR was a big play in the second quarter. The Jets were driving for a score at the Jacksonville 22-yard line, when Martin fumbled. Chris Hudson recovered the ball at the 18 and returned it 42 yards when he bobbled the ball and Johnson recovered it. Johnson concluded a 65-yard drive with his ten-yard end around for a TD. All totaled, Johnson tied a club postseason record for catches with 9-121-1 TD, and tied the club TD mark for postseason TD with two, which was also equaled by Martin. Martin had a big day with 36-124-2 TD rushing and 6-58 receiving for 182 yards from scrimmage. Testaverde was solid as he notched his 13th victory as a starter with 24-36-284-1-1. Jacksonville was led by Smith's 5-104-2 TD and Fred Taylor's 20-86 rushing. Brunell was 12-31-156-3-3. The Jets controlled the ball for 39:16, converting 10-14 third down plays and racking up 29 first downs and 429 total yards from scrimmage. Jacksonville hung in the game with big plays, but the Jets' defense held the Jaguars to only 251 yards.

1999 AFC CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

Jan. 17, 1999 – MILE HIGH STADIUM, DENVER 23, NEW YORK 10

Appearing in the AFC Championship for the first time since 1982, the Jets battled the Super Bowl Champion Denver Broncos, but in the end were unable to play the type of mistake-free football that the team had played for most of the season. The Jets, who took the lead on a John Hall 32-yard FG on the last play of the first half, held the Broncos to only 108 yards of total offense in the first half, highlighted by a goal-line stand in the first quarter. The stunned Mile High Stadium crowd was further silenced when in the third quarter, rookie TE Blake Spence blocked Tom Rouen's punt and TE Fred Baxter recovered at the one-yard line. RB Curtis Martin scored on a one-yard plunge on the next play giving the Jets a 10-0 lead. The Broncos came right back on the next series when John Elway, playing in his last game at Mile High Stadium, hit WR Ed McCaffrey with a 47-yard bomb to the Jets' 17-yard line. Two plays later, Elway connected with FB Howard Griffith for an 11-yard TD. The ensuing kickoff, sailed into 45-mile per hour winds, took a Denver bounce and was recovered by the Broncos at the NY 31-yard line. The defense held, but K Jason Elam connected on a 44-yard FG to tie the game at 10. Denver got it's first lead 13-10 late in the third quarter on Elam's 48-yard FG. The Jets, who were experiencing success through the air behind the precision passing of Vinny Testaverde, abandoned the running game but were unable to hold onto the ball, fumbling four times and having two other passed deflected into the hands of Denver defenders. Denver widened the margin to 20-10 on Terrell Davis' 31-yard TD with 18 seconds left in the third quarter. Elam closed out the scoring with a 35-yard FG late in the fourth quarter for the final score of 23-10.

2001 AFC WILD CARD PLAYOFF GAME

JANUARY 12, 2002 – NETWORK ASSOCIATES COLISEUM, NEW YORK JETS 24 AT OAKLAND RAIDERS 38

The 2001 team became the first Jets' team to qualify for post-season play under a first-year head coach when they defeated the Oakland Raiders 24-22 at the Network Associates Coliseum the week before on Jan. 6. The next week Head Coach Herm Edwards led his 10-6 Jets back to Oakland to take on that same Raider team. The Raiders began the scoring with a 21-yard Sebastian Janikowski FG, before jumping out to a 16-3 halftime lead. The Jets opened the third quarter with an eight-play, 72-yard drive capped by QB Vinny Testaverde's 17-yard TD pass to WR Wayne Chrebet closing the score to 16-10. Testaverde finished the day 27-of-41 for 277 yards and three TD for a QB rating of 109.5. With the score still 16-10; Raider's LB James Harris and CB Charles Woodson forced a fullback Richie Anderson fumble which led to a Raider TD. Down 24-10 the Jets stormed back with a 10-play, 64-yard drive culminating in a three-yard TD pass from Testaverde to Anderson. The two teams traded TD following the Testaverde-Anderson score setting up the game's finale. With 1:49 left and the Jets down 31-24 with two timeouts, the Raiders started their final drive on the OAK 21. The Raiders first two plays netted -1 yard and allowed only nine seconds to run off the game clock. With 1:40 remaining Raider running back Charlie Gardner took a pitch around the right end and raced 80 yards for the game's final TD to knock the Jets out of the playoffs.

2002 AFC WILDCARD PLAYOFF GAME

JAN. 4, 2003 – MEADOWLANDS, INDIANAPOLIS 0, NEW YORK 41

After what they went through to make the playoffs, what a waste it would have been to exit early. That was the message Herm Edwards gave his New York Jets. They routed the befuddled Indianapolis Colts 41-0. After barely getting into the postseason, the Jets emphatically showed they belong with their biggest playoff victory and their first postseason shutout. Chad Pennington threw for three TD, LaMont Jordan ran for two TD and the defense had Peyton Manning and the Colts off-stride. "I am so proud of my teammates to see in every one of them that they are not complacent," Pennington said. "To me, it's special when you're able to step in the huddle and see the intensity and focus in the eyes of your teammates." New York (10-7) began the season 1-4, but won seven of its last nine to storm to the AFC East title on the final day of the season. The surge continued against the wild-card Colts (10-7). "This is a breath of fresh air, but it is only the first win on a long road," Wayne Chrebet said. It was their first postseason victory since 1998, when they made it to the AFC championship game, and the score matched the last playoff game at the Meadowlands, when the Giants beat Minnesota for the 2000 NFC title. "I'm 82-0 in my last two playoffs here," said S Sam Garnes, who was with those Giants. "It definitely feels good to do 41-0 as a Jet." The only more lopsided shutout win in NFL postseason history was Chicago's 73-0 victory over Washington for the 1940 title. This was the first NFL playoff game featuring two black head coaches. The Colts' Tony Dungy and the Jets' Edwards, longtime friends, are the only black head coaches in the league. Edwards spent five seasons as Dungy's top assistant in Tampa before becoming the Jets' coach in 2001. The student came out on top of the mentor because his offense was unstoppable, his defense stingy and his special teams dominant. "I'm just thankful for our friendship and the chance he gave me to stand here and be a head coach," Edwards said. Dungy said he'll be rooting for Edwards' team the rest of the way. "They played awfully well and made us look awfully bad," said Dungy, who took Indianapolis from 6-10 to 10-6 in his first season after being fired by the Bucs. On the Jets' fifth offensive play, Pennington's screen pass floated into Richie Anderson's hands and he rambled down the left side for a 56-yard score. The TD was the longest of his 10-year career, the longest this season for the Jets and the longest scoring play from scrimmage in their playoff history. The Peyton Manning-to-Marvin

Harrison connection got the Colts moving – for just about the only time – immediately after the TD with three completions for 38 yards. But Mike Vanderjagt was short and wide with a 41-yard field goal into the wind. John Hall made one from the same spot early in the second quarter for a 10-0 lead. Troy Walters then fumbled the kickoff and Ray Mickens pounced on it at the Indianapolis 39. Jordan eventually swept left from the 1 for a 17-point lead. It became 24-0 with 37 seconds remaining in the first half when Pennington rolled out and found Santana Moss alone in the right corner of the end zone. Moss grabbed the high throw and barely got both feet in-bounds. In matching their biggest playoff output in a half, the Jets effectively secured their spot in the next round of the playoffs. But they didn't pull back. Chad Morton ran the second-half kickoff 70 yards to the Indy 19, setting up Hall's 39-yard field goal. Rookie TE Chris Baker caught his first TD pass, a three-yarder late in the third quarter. And Jordan, who rushed for 102 yards (89 in the second half), scored again from the one-yard line in the fourth period. Manning was 14-for-31 for 137 yards and two INT, and his team had the ball for just 19:42 – 7:44 in the second half. Manning, who consistently barked instructions to his teammates at the line of scrimmage – often to no avail as New York's aggressive defense applied steady pressure – is 0-3 in the playoffs, and this was the worst of those defeats. "I tried to be patient," Manning said, "but I got to be impatient because the more you get in the hole, the more they take you out of your game plan. So I ended up doing a lot of things I shouldn't have." He wasn't helped by six drops and an offensive line that couldn't keep pressure off him. Harrison, who smashed the NFL record with 143 receptions this season, had only four Saturday. "This was more than we could ask for," Jets LB Marvin Jones said. "But the job isn't done."

2002 AFC DIVSIONAL PLAYOFF

JAN. 12, 2003 – OAKLAND, CA, JETS 10, OAKLAND 30

League MVP Rich Gannon and the Raiders showed why this season might be different from all the others since 1983 with a 30-10 playoff win. They knew the road to the AFC championship game was to stay at home and avoid tuck rules and snowy night games in New England. Now they get Tennessee, whom they beat 52-25 at home in September, back at the Network Associates Coliseum for a shot at the Super Bowl. The Raiders have not been to the big game since winning it against Washington in 1984. "These chances are very rare," veteran All-Pro S Rod Woodson said. "I think we are a mature team that understands what we have here." That chance has been there before – two years ago, when they lost at home to Baltimore for the conference title, and last season, when Tom Brady and the controversial tuck rule did them in at New England. WR Jerry Porter caught a 29-yard TD pass and set up a Jerry Rice nine-yard score with a 50-yard reception as the Raiders (12-5) made it a clean sweep for the home teams on divisional playoff weekend. Gannon began going downfield in the second half after a 10-10 tie, and it paid off. The Jets had the most efficient thrower in the league, Chad Pennington, but he had a tough day. Pennington, in his first season as a starter, had a 104.2 rating. But against Oakland he was 21-of-47 for 183 yards and a 44.9 rating. "There's a saying that as the QB goes, so does the team. I didn't go today," said Pennington, who threw two INT – as many as he had in the last 10 games combined – and lost two fumbles. "I was struggling all day long. I don't know why. It's one of those things I have to learn from, and have a short-term memory." The Raiders, winners of eight of their last nine games, got pickoffs from Tory James and Eric Barton in the second half. They also recovered the two fumbles by Pennington in earning their second trip to the AFC title game in three years. In the 2000 season, they lost at home to Baltimore 16-3 for the conference crown. "These opportunities are few and far between," said Gannon, who finished 20-of-30 for 283 yards. Rice's catch was his 21st post-season TD, tying an NFL record. The 40-year-old receiver also set a record for yards in the playoffs with 2,133 in an 18-year career. Oakland's defense harassed the usually unflappable Pennington and sacked him four times, twice by Rod Coleman. The Raiders beat the Jets for the third time in four games at home in the last year. After a strong first half, Pennington couldn't get on track in the second half, throwing high and, at times, forcing passed. It was the second straight year the Raiders ended the Jets' season here in a playoff game. These teams have had some of the most memorable and bitter meetings in NFL history. The game was tied 10-10 at halftime. But after James' leaping sideline INT at the Jets 45, Gannon went downfield. He hit Brown for 16 yards, then found Porter streaking down the left sideline against a zone defense. Porter caught the ball in stride for a 29-yard TD. Oakland stopped the Jets on a fourth-and-three when WR Wayne Chrebet slipped on his pattern. Gannon then connected with Porter over the middle for 50 yards. It took three more plays for Gannon to hit Rice in the back of the end zone. Richie Anderson dropped a handoff and Pennington was blamed for the fumble. But Damien Robinson intercepted Gannon's next pass. The Raiders returned the favor when Barton made a sideline INT, setting up Sebastian Janikowski's 34-yard field goal. Janikowski added a 31-yarder for the final score. New York (10-8), which scored at least 30 points in each of its last three games, got going early on Curtis Martin's 15-yard run and a 20-yard pass-interference penalty against Charles Woodson. John Hall's 38-yard field goal made it 3-0 about four minutes into the game. A motion penalty on fourth-and-inches at the New York 7 cost the Raiders early, and they wound up with Janikowski's 29-yard field goal to tie it. Then the ball got slippery. As he scrambled, Pennington had it knocked from his hands by Travian Smith, who recovered at the Jets 27. Two plays later, Charlie Garner bobbled a handoff, but guard Frank Middleton fell on it when Jets DE John Abraham failed to scoop up the loose ball. It was Garner's first fumble in 387 touches, but it didn't hurt his team. Moments later, Zack Crockett, Oakland's short-yardage specialist, scored his 10th TD of the season, from the one yard line. Although the Jets moved well on their next possession, they were done in by more mistakes – a holding penalty on a long run and a dropped pass. Hall then missed wide right on a 49-yard field-goal attempt. An impressive 81-yard, 7-minute drive on which Pennington was eight-of-nine for 51 yards, tied it with 22 seconds left in the half. He converted four third-downs with passed before hitting wide-open Jerald Sowell in the flat for a one-yard score.

2004 AFC WILDCARD PLAYOFF GAME

JANUARY 8, 2005 – QUALCOMM STADIUM, NEW YORK JETS 20 AT SAN DIEGO CHARGERS 17

Chad Pennington, bothered for the last five games by a strained rotator cuff, moved New York into range for Doug Brien's 28-yard field goal with 5 seconds left in overtime and the Jets shocked the Chargers 20-17 in a wild-card game Saturday night. The winning drive started on the Jets 30 after Chargers rookie Nate Kaeding was wide right on a 40-yard field goal try with 4:19 left in overtime. It included an 18-yard pass from Pennington to Moss that was upheld on review. But the Chargers forced overtime when All-Pro TE Antonio Gates caught a one-yard TD pass from Pro Bowler Drew Brees to tie it at 17 with 11 seconds left in regulation. It came one play after Jets LB Eric Barton was whistled for a personal foul for hitting Brees on the helmet with his right forearm after Brees threw a desperation pass on fourth-and-goal that was batted down in the end-zone. Pennington threw a go-ahead, 47-yard TD pass to Santana Moss early in the third quarter. His second TD pass of the night, it went at least 55 yards in the air and Moss caught it 2 yards deep in the end-zone after getting behind S Jerry Wilson and CB Quentin Jammer, giving the Jets a 14-7 lead. A 15-yard unsportsmanlike conduct penalty gave the Jets the ball on the San Diego 37, and Pennington hit wide-open TE Anthony Becht on a 13-yard TD pass five plays later that allowed the Jets to tie it at 7 with less than three minutes before halftime. With the score tied at 7 and the Chargers on the Jets 37 with 1:30 left before halftime, Brees was intercepted by Reggie Tongue after Erik Coleman tipped the ball away from McCardell. Brien kicked a 42-yard field goal in the third quarter and San Diego's Nate Kaeding kicked a 35-yarder early in the fourth.

2004 AFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF GAME

JANUARY 15, 2005 – HEINZ FIELD, NEW YORK JETS 17 AT PITTSBURGH 20

Once again, it came down to the final seconds. Once again, the Jets battled a heavily favored opponent that conventional wisdom said they had no business playing so close. And once again, the Jets placed their hopes on the right foot of kicker Doug Brien, who the week before carried them to a victory in a playoff game and preserved their improbable postseason hopes. But on Saturday, presented with the same situation not once, but twice, Brien and the Jets saw both disappear. Finally undone by the opportunistic brand of football that had led so often to success in their surprising season, the Jets fell to the Pittsburgh Steelers, 20-17, in overtime in an American Football Conference divisional playoff game. Brien missed two field-goal attempts in the final 2 minutes 2 seconds of regulation, the last as time expired.

2005 NEW YORK JETS TRAINING CAMP MEDIA INFORMATION

The New York Jets will begin their 2005 NFL season when they report to training camp at Hofstra University on Thursday, July 28. All New York Jets players under contract are expected to report for training camp.

Members of the media are welcome to interview players as they check into the dorms (the Netherlands Dorms on the west side of Hofstra's campus). Coach Herman Edwards will be available at a 3:00 p.m. press conference at Weeb Ewbank Hall. The team will have a 4:00 p.m. conditioning run that will be open to still photographers and camera people.

Practices, beginning on Friday, July 29, and are open to the public. While the Jets invite all fans to attend their daily practices, there are occasions in which the team must practice indoors due to inclement weather. Thus, when the team is forced inside the practice bubble, practices will be off-limits to the public. Fans are encouraged to call the team's fan line at (516) 560-8288 for the most up-to-date news regarding practice schedules. Members of the media may call the Jets' public relations main line at (516) 560-8157 for updates regarding the practice schedule.

HEAD COACH HERM EDWARDS' MEDIA AVAILABILITY: Jets' Head Coach Herm Edwards will meet with the media in the media tent (located adjacent to the Jets' locker room) following the morning practice sessions.

PLAYER INTERVIEWS: New York Jets' players are available for interviews following the morning practice sessions in the media tent (located adjacent to the Jets' locker room). All interviews are to be conducted either inside the media tent or on the football field next to the tent. Interviews are not to be conducted in the parking lot. Requested players will be asked to stop on their way off the field and will be escorted to the media tent. Interviews may also be conducted outside The Netherlands cafeteria on the west side of campus. However, not all players make their way to the dorms during the mid-day break, thus it is encouraged to complete interviews as the players exit the practice field and make their way towards the locker room. Due to the large roster size, there will not be interviews allowed inside the locker room. Once training camp has concluded, the locker room will re-open to the media at designated times.

All members of the media must wear credentials issued from the Jets' public relations staff. Members of the media are encouraged to attend practices and are asked to respect the directions of the Jets' public relations department regarding restrictions to the proximity of the field. There also will be times when filming is prohibited due to game plan situations. A member of the public relations staff will instruct the crews as to the prohibitive times to shoot. Please do not converse with players or coaches before or during practice.

MEDIA MEALS: The media is welcome to eat lunch during training camp at the Netherlands Cafeteria beginning at 12:30 p.m. Please sign in and have your Jets' credential displayed. Player interviews should be conducted outside the cafeteria unless otherwise approved through the public relations department. At no time are interviews to be conducted while players or coaches are eating, unless otherwise approved by a member of the Jets' public relations staff.

ASSISTANT COACHES AND FRONT OFFICE INTERVIEWS: All requests during training camp should be made through the Jets' public relations office.

CREDENTIALS: Training camp credentials will be issued by the Jets' public relations staff at Weeb Ewbank Hall. All media credentials should be worn in clear view on the practice fields and must be shown to enter the cafeteria.

PARKING: Parking for all members of the media will be across the street from Hofstra University's general athletic fields. The press room entrance is located on the east side of the team's practice facility (across from the University Swimming Center).

WWW.NEWYORKJETS.COM: You can access the Jets' website, www.newyorkjets.com for the most up-to-date information regarding the Jets. All press releases will be posted as news about the team is released.

GENERATION JETS FEST: Generation Jets Fest, an interactive NFL theme park, will be open every day starting July 30th through August 25th. Generation Jets Fest will be held adjacent to the Jets' practice fields on the north campus of Hofstra University.
